BRYAN IN ILLINOIS.

Billed for Twenty-four Speeches in Three Days.

Begins His Work at Lincoln With an Address at 7 O'Clock Today.

BLOOMINGTON, Ills., Oct. 27.—William J. Bryan evidently will make the last week of the campaign one of hard work and in all probability a record breaker.

Shortly after 7 o'clock this morning he was talking to the people of Lincoln, Ills., and at 9 o'clock the people of Bloomington were listening to the triple nominee.

At Lincoln there was a good sized crowd down to the depot before breakfast, in fact many were there all night, for when the special car was sidetracked shortly after 3 o'clock this morning a crowd of ardent admirers of the nominee showed their affection for him by disturbing his rest and demanding a speech at that early hour.

When he arrived in Lincoln the crowd surrounded the car and loudly demanded his appearance, all of which was very comforting not only to Mr. Bryan but to the other members of the party. When Mr. Bryan began to speak there was a crowd of several thousand assembled about the platform in the public square in Lincoln and nearly every member of the crowd wore a Bryan badge.

Mr. Bryan's talk was in the main in reference to the statement that a panic would follow the enactment of the law looking toward the free coinage of silver. His speech was liberally applauded and he was in touch with the crowd which heard him. He said in part:

"One week from today the American people are to decide upon the financial policy of this nation for at least four years, and possibly a longer time. When our opponents have failed in everything else, they commence to make gloomy predictions of what will happen if we have the free coinage of silver. You know whenever we have complained of existing conditions they have called us calamity howlers.

"But, my friends, the worst of these who have complained of conditions as they are, are speaking words of praise compared with the language by our opponents when they begin to tell what is going to happen if the free coinage of silver comes and one of the most frequent of the prophecies which they make is that a panic will come from the moment we have the free coinage of silver, that all the people who have money will lock it up and all the people who have mortgages will foreclose the mortgages, and that there is going to be a period of ruin here, and that language fails to express their ideas of the subject. They simply stand aghast at the picture.

"I want to show you that the free coinage of silver, instead of bringing a panic, will stop the panic that the people have been suffering from four years. We are in the midst of a panic now and we have been in the midst of a panic. Business failures have been increasing and hard times have been becoming harder. That is what a panic means, and we are in the midst of a panic now and there is no way out of the panic until we stop falling prices, and there is no way to stop falling prices until we increase the volume of money, which measures prices.

"Now there is one principle to go on when you are discussing what is going to happen, and that principle is that people are not going to do anything that is injurious to them if they know it. You can count on selfish interest always, and when you tell me that men will hoard money under free coinage, I tell you that I know they will not hoard money, because people never hoard money when money is falling in value. They do not hoard wheat when wheat is going down. You will find that when the price begins to fall they begin to get rid of the thing falling in price and under free coinage there will be a larger amount of money brought into circulation and people understand that means the purchasing power of the dollars will fall, and when that commences the man who owns the dollar will be trying to get rid of the dollar and get hold of something which is rising in its purchasing power."

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—William Jennings Bryan, democratic candidate for president, will have three of the busiest days of his life in Chicago, beginning today. He has scored a remarkable record as a speechmaker, and he purposes to give Chicago a striking exhibition of his wonderful powers of endurance. Incidentally he hopes to gain many votes for his cause, and his managers are confident he will succeed.

Beginning about 4 o'clock this afternoon he is booked to make twenty-four speeches in this city by 11 o'clock Thursday night. It is also planned that he shall take a special train Thursday morning and make a flying trip to Freeport, Elgin and Rockport, returning by 6 p. m. Mr. Bryan is expected to arrive at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon on the Chicago and Alton railroad and will be driven to Battery D, surrounded by his escort, and he will be given a reception.

DWIGHT, Ill., Oct. 27.—The workingmen of Bloomington listened to William J. Bryan at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and they gave him a cordial reception. From a stand, in Franklin park, and near the residence of Vice President Stevenson, he talked to an audience of several thousand people, and, after being introduced by the vice president, paid that gentleman a compliment as being one of the democrats still true to the traditions of his party. He then proceeded to answer questions propounded to him by a morning paper, and his answers apparently satisfied the crowd.

Mr. Bryan said: "This is the home of the vice president of the greatest nation of God's footstool. We who have been keepers of the democratic faith love Adlai Stevenson not only for what he is, but we love him because he is all we have left of the last national democratic ticket. If you have any doubt as to the democracy of our position on the money question, I want you to read what the republican candidate for the presidency said yesterday. He says in a speech from the front porch, "every dollar representing one hundred cents, and good not only among our own people, but wherever trade goes in every market and market place of the world. Now, remember what he says. Speaking of this dollar he says: It was made by the republican party, but, let me say, while it was made by the republican party, the administration of Grover Cleveland has maintained it. There he tells you that Grover Cleveland has simply carried out the policy of the republican party and inferentially tells you that republican success means that the republican party in four years will carry out the policy of Grover Cleveland This administration has issued $262,000,000 in bonds to maintain a gold standard for three years, and Mr. McKinley praises Mr. Cleveland for having maintained the standard. When Mr. McKinley says that Mr. Cleveland has maintained republican doctrine and praises Mr. Cleveland, you have reason to believe that if Mr. McKinley is elected you will go on issuing bonds for the benefit of the bondholders and tax people to pay for them. My friends, there are strange times. You will not find in our political history another instance where a president has been thrown overboard by his own party only to be caught up and idolized by the opposition party. Yet that is what you find today. The only people who are commending the financial policy of Grover Cleveland are the men who are trying to elect a republican president to continue that policy for four years more. Are you surprised then to find a democratic president endorsing a republican candidate for the presidency that a policy inaugurated at St. Louis and reiterated by the republican candidate is driving out of the republican party those who still believe in a government by the people and for the people. I have been introduced this morning to republicans who have joined with us this year—men who, until this year, voted the republican ticket, but who this year are joining with us to restore the money of the constitution. I am proud of the kind of men who come to us. I am glad that those who go from us are the ones that have been millstones about the necks of democracy and have been using the instrumentalities of it for public plunder, And the more of them that go into the republican party, the worse for the republican party."

USE OF ALCOHOL IN THE ARTS.

Series of Questions Bearing on the Subject to be Sent Broadcast.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The joint select committee created at the last session of congress to investigate and report upon the question of the use of alcohol free of tax in the manufactures and arts, has prepared a series of interrogatories which will be distributed throughout the country to such parties as are thought to be interested in the question.

The report of Henry Bailey, jr., who was commissioned to investigate the workings of foreign laws govorning the use of untaxed alcohol in the manufactures and arts, has been submitted and contains very full and valuable data covering Great Britain, Germany, France, Belgium and Switzerland.

It is the desire of the committee to secure all possible information bearing upon the subject, and parties interested are requested to submit their views to the committee promptly.

The committee, which is composed of three members of each house, probably will assemble in Washington soon after the middle of November for the purpose of formulating a report to congress, accompanied by the draft of a law which will place domestic industries in foreign countries. During their sessions in Washington hearings will probably be given in order to supplement the information obtained through the interrogatories to be sent out.

WITH FATAL RESULTS.

A Brutal Bull Fight Caused a Panic in the Audience.

NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 27.—A bull fight with fatal results occurred at Nogales Sonora yesterday, and for a short time caused a panic in the audience. One of the bulls, becoming more enraged than usual at these rather tame fights, rushed about the arena goring everything within its reach. A horse was disemboweled. A picador, Jose Angulo, in an attempt to place a thorn in the side of the wild animal, was caught on one of its long horns, which pierced him like a sword. He was tossed and fell to the ground bleeding and mangled, when the brute went at him with his horns and hit and pawed him He was frightfully injured and died a few minutes later. There was intense excitement in the audience and at one time it was on the verge of a panic, but was quieted by the killing of the bull.

FIFTY-TWO LADIES

Call Upon Major McKinley This Morning.

They Came From Martins Ferry and Lined Up and Marched Like the Sterner Sex.

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 27.—The first delegation today to be presented to Major McKinley was a party of fifty-two ladies, who arrived in a special car from Martin's Ferry, Ohio, at the noon hour. They wore large ribbons, upon which was inscribed "McKinley and Sound Money." The ladies marched to the McKinley residence at the head of the Maryland and West Virginia delegation, which arrived at the same time and was transported to this city in fifteen coaches The women were introduced by Harry Pratt and the delegations from West Virginia and Maryland by Hon. E. H. Sincell, of Piedmont, W. Va. This latter delegation was accompanied by two bands and made a highly enthusiastic demonstration.

Before the first crowd was out of the yard three other delegations in one body were in the street at the foot of the hill, waiting a chance to get on the lown. These were from Cleveland and composed of the employes of the Upson Nut company, the Iamso & Sessions company and Peck, Stow & Wilcox. Kirk's band, of Cleveland, and the Grand Army band, of Canton, marched in the delegation and played "The Star Spangled Banner," while the crowd greeted Major McKinley with shouts and cheers. The delegation was a large one, having used two special trains for its transportation. William McKinsie, one of the workmen, made the introductory address.

Employes of the Junction Iron and Steel company, of Mingo Junction, with their wives and friends in numbers sufficient to fill a special train and headed by the G. A. Dean band, arrived just after the Cleveland delegation and waited their turn at the bottom of the hill. They were introduced by Capt. N. N. Urquart, of the company.

The reviewing stand has been re-erected on the front of the lawn and was used for the Cleveland and later speeches.

Three more delegations are announced to arrive this afternoon, the most important of which is a Boston party coming as the "Sound Money" club of New England. The train of this party is running a little behind scheduled time and will not reach Canton till 2 o'clock, or possibly a little later.

NO VACATION FOR HIM.

General Fitzhugh Lee Gives Up His Visit.

Fears That a Trip to His Home Will be Considered a Desire to Retire From Office.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—General Fitzhugh Lee, consul general at Havana, has given up his proposed visit to his home in Virginia, which he had expected to make within the next few days. The determination to remain at his post is understood to be due to the reports current in the United States that he was dissatisfied with his instructions and desired to be relieved. As his return might give seeming approval to the reports the consul general determined to give up the vacation he had planned, although he is much in need of a change of scene, owing to the hardships of the Havana climate during the last six months.

Expert Mining Engineers Coming to America.

They Represent the English Syndicate Which Purchased the Anaconda Mines.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Two prominent mining engineers from London are now on their way to this city. One of them is Louis Janin, jr., son of Louis Janin, of this city, and formerly an editor of the Mining and Engineering Journal, of New York. Dr. Janin was at one time a mining engineer here and is now in the employ of a London syndicate. His stay here will be short, as he is going to Australia to examine some property that the London syndicate is thinking of purchasing. Hamilton Smith, of the London Exploration company, the largest mining syndicate in the world, is the other mining expert coming here. It was on this gentleman's report that the company in question recently bought the famous Anaconda mines in Montana. The company owns the Onieda property in Amador county, Cal; the Alaska Treadwell, the Steeple Rock, in New Mexico, and the Minas Preitas, in Mexico. It is believed his trip to California has something to do with the rumor that his company is thinking of purchasing the famous Mariposa grant in Mariposa county, Cal., consisting of 44,000 acres in the heart of the Mother Lode country. The property is owned by John W. Mackay, Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada; Alviza Hayward and the Hobart estate. If the proposed deal goes through it will be the biggest mining deal ever consummated in the world. It is also stated that Mr. Smith may arrange for the purchase by his company of the Home Stake mine in South Dakota.

Proves Very Expensive to an Insurance Company.

The Mutual Life Compelled to Pay $100,000 Because of a Little Omission.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Owing to a court clerk's error the Mutual Life Insurance company, of New York, must pay Mrs. Nellie Phinney a judgment of $98,000, with interest and costs, making over $100 000 Such was the decision rendered by the United States circuit court of appeals in this city. The company refused to pay the life policy of Guy C. Phinney for $98,000, and suit was brought by the widow and judgment given, but the case was appealed. R. M. Hopkins, clerk of the court at Washington, failed to properly endorse the writ of error filed with him, therefore there is no official record showing that the writ was actually filed. The time allowed within which another appeal might be filed has expired, so the decision is final.

POLITICAL CIRCULAR.

Leaders of Railway Organizations Make a Statement.

Messrs. Arthur, Sargent and Arnold Repudiate Statements Said to Have Been Made by Them.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 27.—The following circular was issued today:

"To the Workingmen of the United States:

"To refute a false statement, as we sincerely believe it to be, and correct any impression that our friends and acquaintances may have formed concerning our signatures to a campaign document going the rounds of the press and circulated broadcast on the streets entitled, 'Proclamation,' in which we are made to appear that we are in favor of free silver at any ratio and substantially the establishment of two standards of money. Contradictory as the terms may be, we wish to be recorded by all who are interested in our position, as being emphatically and equivocally against any such measures, but are for the sound money plank promulgated by the republican convention at St. Louis. Our signatures were obtained nearly three years ago to a document pretending to be a 'memorial' to congress then in session, which, in our belief and memory, was a much milder paper than is the 'proclamation' referred to. And no matter what our opinions may have been on the money question at the time of our signing the memorial, nearly three years ago, we have learned enough since on the subject, to warrant us in denouncing the attempt at free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, believing it to be directly against the interests of labor and also believing that under a condition of free coinage this country will be subjected to one of the most frightful panics that any country in this world has ever seen. Our belief in this statement is strengthened by an admission made by Wm. J. Bryan, candidate for president, in a recent speech in the northwest, wherein he is reported to have said that he thought that a free silver condition would bring, for the present, stagnation and panic, but from which, in four years, we would recover. We don't believe that this country can stand an additional four years of misery and distress and are therefore opposed to the sentiments contained in the aforesaid 'proclamation.'

"Very respectfully,

"P. M. ARTHUR,

"Grand Chief Brotherhood Locomotive Engineers.

"F. P. SARGNANT.

"Grand Master Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

"F. W. ARNOLD,

"Grand Secretary and Treasurer Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen."

STILL HAS GOLD.

A Run on the Sub-Treasury Fails to Break It.

The Flurry Lasted but a Short Time and No One Was Greatly Alarmed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The statement telegraphed from San Francisco today to the effect that the United States sub-treasury there had just pulled through a run which threatened to annihilate its gold holdings, isstated by the treasury officials to be greatly exaggerated. During the month of August and a part of September the withdrawals reported from the sub treasury at San Francisco were abnormally heavy, but at no time were the officials apprehensive of any serious results. Long before the withdrawals assumed any considerable proportions instructions had been given the Chicago subtreasury officials to be ready to ship to San Francisco such quantities of gold as might be required, and later on one or more shipments were made. For the most part, however, the assistant treasurer at San Francisco managed the matter with little assistance from Washington, and as one official stated today, "The flurry lasted but a short time, and alarmed no one. There has been no unusual withdrawals at San Francisco for nearly a month."

A stubborn fight will be made on all sides for the lands, the claims of whose value range from a million to several millions of dollars. The property involved aggregates 162 acres. The state of Illinois, claimants under the Kinsie patent, and parties who wish to make scrip location, all seek title to the lands.

No such grand display of flowers has ever been made in Fort Wayne as will be exhibited in Library hall November 5, 6 and 7. People who have never seen a flower show in the chrysanthemum season will be surprised and delighted with what they see. The benefit to the city of Fort Wayne ought to be very great, by the stimulous which the show will give to our love for beautiful things.

Besides the local nurserymen, all of whom will exhibit, the society expects a fine display to be made by Messrs. E. G. Hill & Co., of Richmond, Ind., and Nathan Smith & Son, of Adrian, Mich. Surely the attendance at this show should be sufficient to repay the society for all their efforts, and give some return in the way of premiums to the exhibitors.

Besides the premiums offered by the Horticultural society, the following special premiums are offered by lovers of flowers:

For Chrysanthemums—For the best vase of fifty blooms, by Mrs. J. H. Base; best thirty blooms, not less than six varities, Mr. H. C. Paul; best twenty blooms, one variety, Mr. W. D. ### Robert Gilman Arrested and Then Released.

Prosecuting Witness Fails to Appear in Court—News in Police Circles.

James Jackson, a renovator of hats, doing business on South Calhoun street, yesterday instructed Officer Lot Sharp to arrest one Robert Gilman for trespass. He claimed that he had discharged Gilman and that the young man persisted in hanging about his premises to the annoyance of himself and his patrons. So, last night, Officer Sharp arrested the young man and lodged him in police station. This morning when the prisoner appeared before the mayor he denied the charges, and his honor having only the testimony of the officer, he discharged Gilman. He said that a prosecuting witness who will not appear in court after having instigated an arrest must have a weak case indeed. It seems that Jackson attended the Evansville excursion and is not in the city.

HOUSE BREAKERS.

Charles McCormick, George Bodler and Frank Rodey were arrested at the east yards by Special Officer Fuchshober for trespassing. They were each sent to jail for fifteen days.

ALL who wish to cast their votes for Bryan, must vote for the electors on the democratic ticket. Voters cannot vote directly for Bryan. They vote for the electors, and the electors will vote for Bryan.

ONE week from today the battle of the ballots will be in progress and then the business of the country will settle down to its natural channels.

FORT WAYNE will have another big crowd in town Friday. Ex-President Harrison, for the republicans, and Eugene V. Debs, for the democrats, will be the drawing cards.

FROM his sick bed Senator Voorhees sends words of cheer to the democracy of Indiana, saying that Bryan will carry the state; that he will be elected, and that "the laboring, producing classes will thereby be vastly aided in returning to prosperity and happiness." He expresses deep regret at his inability to take an active part in the pending contest and declares himself unequivocally in favor of the Chicago ticket and platform.

READERS of daily newspapers who complain that there is nothing in their columns but politics, probably do not realize that about all one hears on the streets and in the business places is politics. If a murder is committed next door to a man and some patriot changes his politics a mile away, you will hear of the political conversion twenty times before the murder is mentioned. This illustrates how difficult it is for reporters to get hold of the news.

EVERY citizen should be perfectly clear in his own mind as to the proper way of voting before going to the polls and essaying to cast a ballot. Remember that to vote a straight ticket it is only necessary to stamp once within the square that encloses your party emblem. Stamp only once. To vote a mixed or scratched ticket do not stamp the emblem, but do stamp the little square in front of each man's name for whom you wish to vote. If these plain directions are followed, voters will make no mistake.

THE free coinage of silver would largely increase our trade in manufactured goods with all Latin-America, as it would enable them to pay in silver for purchases instead of gold at 100 per cent. premium as they are now compelled to do.

MUCH allowance is to be made for the claims of party success which come from managers of national campaigns. As a rule, they only see and hear one side of the battle, and one of the most important factors in giving success to a political cause is to impress the voters of the certainty that it is going to win. The public, therefore, always receive with liberal allowance the claims made by those who are in responsible charge of national campaigns.

THE unit of value fixed by the law of 1792 was the silver dollar. When Mr Ingham, Jackson's secretary of the treasury, undertook to change the unit of the silver to the gold dollar he awoke the rage of Jackson to such an extent that he was discharged from the cabinet. Jackson made the same fight that the democracy is making today. The unit of value for money in this country was silver until 1873, when it was changed by the set demonetizing silver, and then the business depression began.

JOHN W. NUSBAUM has been in politics a good many years and therefore knows what sort of fellows make themselves particularly and offensively fresh at times. In his paper, the Shipshewana Tribune, Mr. Nusbaum indulges in this characterization: "The campaign liar is abroad throughout the land. He is a very energetic person and thinks he is in great demand. What he knows about the political questions could be put in a small sized hazelnut. It is safe to let what he says go into one ear and out the other, for the reason he never reads, but enlarges on something he has heard."

THE campaign is drawing to a close and for the few days remaining it would pay all hands to be decent. The closing days of a campaign furnish the worst time for exhibitions of political intolerance, as such acts in their effects may be projected beyond the election into the period when everybody should hope for peace and quietness. The talk about boycotting for opinion's sake, saying nothing about the act itself, is just now not only foolish but criminal. Any man, no matter of what party, is a criminal who would stir up bitterness and strife to last beyond November 3, the day agreed on for a final settlement.

THE next legislature will elect a successor to United States Senator Daniel W. Voorhees, and for that reason, if for no other, each party is exceedingly anxious to be in control on joint ballot. One hundred and twenty-six members are to be elected—100 representatives and twenty-six senators. There are twenty five hold over senators, but the resignation of William S. Haggard, of Tippecanoe county, who is the republican nominee for lieutenant governor, makes it necessary to elect twenty-six senators. Of the twenty-four hold-over senators, eighteen are republicans and six are democrats. The democrats and populists have fused on thirty-three candidates for representative and on six candidates for the senate, and appearances now indicate that they will have a majority of members in the next state legislature.

IT IS safe to say that there has not been for twenty years a presidential campaign that has excited as much interest among all classes in Fort Wayne and Allen county as the one which is now so rapidly drawing to a close, and what is true of this vicinity is equally true of the whole country. The campaign has been distinctly one of education. No device has been spared by either party to arouse party enthusiasm and bring out the voters, but after all the excursions and the processions are only the incidents, the preliminaries, necessary in some cases, to the proper exploitation of campaign oratory. The campaign circular and orator have done the real work, and it has been done more effectively than ever before. Converts have been and are still being made on both sides, and it will continue so until election day. These facts furnish reason for congratulation. The world has never seen a grander spectacle than the American people have presented this year, the spectacle of 12 000 000 voters seriously taking up a great economic question and essaying to decide it by the light of their own reason and intelligence.

A RECENT talk on the subject of so-called "faith cures" has led to considerable correspondence concerning them. In plain, non-techinal terms, the entire mystery is explained by the fact that mental impressions have such a powerful and marvelous effect upon the body that if a physically afflicted woman believes that she will be cured through the efficacy of prayer, in numerous instances the desired result is accomplished. But bear in mind that the same end can be attained with the same subject by simply telling her that at a certain moment prayers are being offered in her behalf in a distant church, even though no such event was taking place. So, you see, it is the mental impression and not the prayer that produces the effect. These experiments succeed only with persons of peculiarly impressionable dispositions, and that is the reason why women figure most frequently as the recovered patients. Hundreds of authentic cases could be cited in support of this position. Nor is it even necessary that these workings of the imagination should play alone on the nervous system, which, of course, is the most susceptible. Even the involuntary muscles are acutely subject to the impressions of the mind.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

Judge Bartholomew Makes It in a Building Association Case.

In the foreclosure suit of Lewis C. Miller against Thomas P. Mills and others, decided by Judge Bartholomew in the superior court at Indianapolis, last Saturday morning, a point entirely new to the courts of the state and one of large interest to building and loan associations and borrowers of building and loan funds was involved and established by the decision in question.

The basis of the suit was simply this: Charles E Allender and wife, two of the defendants, borrowed of the Aetna savings and loan association the sum of $900 and invested in the association stock to that amount. In security they executed a bond and mortgage upon a certain piece of real estate, and also pledged their shares of association stock in security of the loan. They were to pay 6 per cent. per annum in advance, payable each month during the existence of the loan or the life of their shares and also fifty cents per share weekly dues and twenty cents premium each week on each share.

On October 30, 1895, Thomas P. and Anna P. Mills, with Samuel and Anna M. Small, became owners of the property by legal conveyance, but did not assume to pay as part of the purchase money the bond and mortgage, on which the suit in question was instituted. The Allenders subsequently became delinquent in dues on their building and loan shares for a period of 111 weeks and in payment of the premiums for thirty weeks, these delinquencies aggregating $265 75, including interest. In addition to this they were also delinquent $34 65 in fines. It was also provided in the bond that if the owners of the property should become delinquent in payment of taxes on the property the mortgagee could pay the taxes, which amount should be added to the lien already resting on the real estate and become a part of the mortgage debt. On May 8, 1896, the Aetna Savings and Loan association sold and transferred the mortgage to the plaintiff, Lewis G. Miller, without recourse on such association, the bond executed by the Allenders also being transferred to Miller. The defendants set up a denial that Miller was the owner of the property and therefore not the party in interest for the reason that under the building and loan law of Indiana the Aetna Savings and Loan association had no power to assign the bond and mortgage to Miller and that these instruments were therefore null and void.

In disposing of the case Judge Bartholomew in the course of a carefully prepared opinion said:

"After a person has become a stockholder in a building and loan association and becomes a borrower of said association it is provided by law and decided by our supreme court that he cannot withdraw therefrom until the loan made from said association has been fully paid.

"Now, the bond and mortgage sued upon (the evidence shows) were in default for the non payment of interest, premium, etc., at the time said bond and mortgage were assigned to the plaintiff, consequently under the decision in the case above cited, the defendants (Allenders) had no interest whatever in said association, they having forfeited the same by the non-payment of the dues, assessments, premiums, fines, etc. This then left the association with the mortgage on the real estate as its sole security for the debt due from the defendants Allenders to the association, and if to save the costs, expenses and uncertainty as to whether, upon the foreclosure of said mortgage due the said association from said Allenders, said property would sell for a sufficient sum to pay said loan in full, I am of the opinion that under the law the association had the right and the discretion to determine whether or not it was not better and to the interest of the stockholders to sell, transfer and assign said mortgage to the plaintiff or to take the usual course in their own name and in their own right to foreclose said mortgage, sell said property and buy it in at sheriff's sale.

"For the foregoing reasons I am of the opinion that the plaintiff is the real party in interest and is entitled to a decree of foreclosure upon the mortgage and liens described in the first paragraph of his complaint and abundantly sustained by the evidence given on the trial of this cause, and judgment will be entered accordingly."

The Students' Art league will meet tonight.

A Hasty Marriage.

"Marry in haste and repent at leisure" is an old adage, and that it possesses some truth is demonstrated in the case of two young south siders. One of them, it is certain, is in a penitent mood. The story is as follows: A certain young man, or boy, as he is but 18 years of age, and a girl of 17, had for some time kept company with each other, and made up their minds to get married. All arrangements were made and everything seemed rosy and bright till it was found that a very essential thing had been overlooked—the parents of the young lady had not given their consent. The young man at once set about to remedy this, and imagine his dismay when he was informed that he could not have the girl of his choice for a wife. After considering the matter he proposed to the girl that they elope. This she refused to do; she was sure, however, that if the young man would but wait for a few months her parents' consent could be gained. This he refused to do, and in a "huff" he went away and proposed to another young woman. She at once accepted him and the wedding was solemnized. Immediately after the ceremony the young man concluded that he had done a foolish thing, and he has already instituted a suit for divorce, as the parents of the first girl have said that if he can secure his freedom he can have their daughter.—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

Once in a while a man surprises the watchers by sitting up in his coffin, and asking why in the world they put him in there. Such things, when they happen, are published far and wide. They are considered well nigh miraculous. Is it any less wonderful when a man is cured of a disease presumed to be fatal? When physicians say to a man that he cannot live, he considers himself just about as good as dead. He can almost feel the coffin closing upon him. And yet, frequently these men who are sentenced to death by their doctors, are raised up out of their sickness to perfect, hearty health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has lifted thousands of men and women right out of the grave. After doctors had given them up, they have in desperation turned to this great remedy, and to their great astonishment have found themselves getting well.

Skepticism in regard to this wonderful medicine has cheated many a man out of his health. If people could only be made to believe the truth about the "Discovery," half the sickness could be avoided and cured. The "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of consumption. This great "Discovery" will also cure all of the things that lead to consumption—lingering coughs, throat and bronchial troubles, general debility, loss of flesh, loss of sleep, loss of appetite, loss of nerve force. Its effect is immediately seen. As the patient begins to feel better, he begins to look better, and the hollows and wrinkles are filled out with sound, firm, healthy flesh. Druggists sell it.

If you want to know the great secrets of health, send 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, and receive free a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. 21 cents in paper covers, 31 cents in cloth. It is a complete medical library in one volume. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

OSTRICH FEATHER INDUSTRY.

Interesting Facts as to the Collection and Treatment of Feathers.

As is well known, feathers, especially those of the ostrich, are used more from year to year as garniture for hats and dresses. The color scale of the Paris syndical chamber glitters in all the glaring colors of the rainbow, and a number of changeable ones were incorporated likewise, all of which are applied to feathers.

Vienna and Berlin strive with each other for the control of the ostrich-feather market. The Vienna manufacturers are adepts in the art of imparting an excellent appearance to even the worst raw material. Even the so-called spadonnas, the hairy tips of the tail feathers of the young ostrich, which are of an inferior value, they understand how to beautify by dyeing and plating as if they were prime No. 1. By plating means the patching together of single pieces to obtain a full first-class feather, and almost every feather, even the costliest, is plated. This applies principally to the feathers of Vienna "manufacture."

The Berlin ware, however, is still honest, and for this reason its manufacturers have a difficult strife with those of Vienna. The Berlin manufacturers thoroughly understand the bleaching, dyeing, steaming and curling of the feathers, and besides they use a superior raw material.

It is astonishing to read of the quantity of ostrich feathers annually used in the civilized world. Newspaper articles sometimes speak in exalted terms of the rococo time, with its extensive use of feathers used by rich and noble ladies, but the total amount used at that time fades from view when compared to that used at present. The data of the six annual auction sales held in London in 1894 show that in all of them 398,774 pounds were disposed of at a value of £584,000.—Philadelphia Times.

Religion and Agriculture.

At Cushing, Ok., a church organization, with a view to providing revenue, pitched in and planted a field of cotton. The crop was recently harvested and sent to the gin and the proceeds will be devoted to the spread of the gospel No reasonable objection can be offered to mixing up religion and agriculture It is a better combination in every way than religion and politics.

NICKNAMES OF PRESIDENTS

All of Them Were Known by Pseudonyms Indicative of Character.

Washington was "Father of His Country," "American Fabius," the "Cincinnatus of the West," "The Atlas of America," "Lovely Georgius," "Flower of the Forest," "Deliverer of America," "Stepfather of His Country" and "Savious of His Country." Adams was the "Colossus of Independence," Jefferson was the "Sage of Monticello" and "Long Tom" Madison was "The Father of the Constitution." Monroe was the "Last Cocked Hat" and John Quincy Adams the "Old Man Eloquent."

Jackson was, of course, "Old Hickory," "Big Knife and Sharp Knife," the "Hero of New Orleans," "Gin'ral" and "Old Hero." Van Buren was the "Little Magician," the "Wizard of Kinderhook," "Follower in the Footsteps," "Whisky Van," "King Martin the First," "Sweet Little Fellow," "Political Grimalkin" and "Weasel." W. H. Harrison was "Tippecanoe," "Old Tip" and the "Washington of the West." Tyler was "Young Hickory" and "Accidental President." Polk also was "Young Hickory," the sobriquet being used to resurrect the Jacksonian element. Taylor was "Old Rough and Ready," "Old Buena Vista" and "Old Zach." Fillmore was the "American Louis Phillippe." Pierce was "Purse." Buchanan was "Old Public Functionary," and "Bachelor President" and "Old Buck." We have now reached Lincoln, the "Rail Splitter," "Honest Old Abe," "Uncle Abe," "Massa Linkum," "Father Abraham" and the "Sectional President," the last name being given by the southerners who maintained that he represented the north and not the whole people. Then comes Johnson—"Sir Veto." Grant was "Unconditional Surrender," "Old Three Stars," "Hero of Appomattox" and the "American Caesar." Hayes was the "President de Facto," a name given him by the defeated democrats. Garfield was the "Martyr President." Arthur was "Our Chet" and the "First Gentleman in the Land." Cleveland is the "Man of Destiny," "Grover," and "Stuffed Prophet." Harrison is "Backbone Ben" and "Grandfather's Hat."

Pathetic Story of Crouch.

The death of poor Crouch, the almost forgotten composer of "Kathleen Mavourneen," at Baltimore, in the 89th year of his age, brings to mind a pathetic incident which occurred at one of Mlle. Titiens' concerts in the opera house at New York in 1876. The famous singer, as an encore, sang "Kathleen Mavourneen"—the only time she did so while in the States. The song excited a furore of applause, and on Mlls. Titiens leaving the stage, she was informed that a man supposed to be a lunatic, was fighting his way over the barriers from the pit to the stage, determined, so he said, to speak to the singer. The prima donna told the authorities to let him come to her. On entering the man burst into tears, sobbing out, "Oh, Mlle. Titiens, I never before heard my song as you have just sang it." "Your song," was the astonished reply, "why, you are not Crouch, surely?" "I am, indeed," rejoined the composer, even then an old man; "and I felt I must thank you myself." It was indeed the unlucky Crouch, who had scraped together the price of a pit seat, little dreaming that his own now world famous song would be the most rapturously applauded item of the night.

Entitled to Consideration.

"My misguided friend," said the fat man with the puffs under the eyes, "I will admit that I am a capitalist. That part of your assertion shall go unchallenged. But when you say that I am not a producer you are wrong. I have been backing a comic opera company for two months."

Mrs Will Peterson, of Wallace street, entertained a party of friends last evening at tea. Mrs E M. Show, of Dunkirk Ohio was the guest of honor

CLARENCE EDDY HONORED.

The Noted Organist a Member of the St. Cecelia Society.

(Chicago Letter.)

Clarence Eddy, the noted organist of Chicago, who has been elected to honorary membership by the exclusive St. Cecelia Society of Rome, richly deserves the eulogiums brought out by the action of the Roman academy. Mr. Eddy played before the great organlished those who heard him broke forth lists of the society and when he had finin lavish and spontaneous praise of his genius. The members of the society told him that the academy would be honored by his acceptance of their invitation to become an associate. Mr. Eddy studied music under Dr. Haupt of Berlin. His personality is familiar to all Chicagoans who love the music of the organ. When he first came to this city to live he was an instructor in Mrs. Hershey's musical school. That institution was abandoned when its proprietress became Mrs. Eddy, and Mr. Eddy then began to be more widely known as a musician. He was very prominent in the first May festival held here in 1882. Among those with whom he shared the praise of the people on that occasion were Anna Louise Carey, Emily Vincent, Campanini, Mme. Materna and Myron W. Whitney, the great basso. Mr. Eddy was also prominent in the musical affairs of the world's fair, and the growth of his reputation has been steady and sure.

Keep A JUMPIN'

THE storekeeper, politician, salesman, mechanic or laboring man who expects to do much business or make both ends meet this year, must practice the lesson in the above illustration: Two bullfrogs found themselves in a pail of milk from which they could not jump out. One of them was for giving up, and said to the other: "Good bye, I sink, I die." Said his mate: "Brace up you duffer." Keep a jumping and see what turns up. So they kept a jumping up and down all night, and by morning had so churned the milk that it turned to butter, and they jumped off the butter on to land. This is no milk and water tale as you see by the results—the butter. If you want to make both ends meet, "Keep a JUMPING." Don't cry "I sink, I die." A man who keeps looking for bad times and a snap will not live long enough to get a snap or see good times. The man who keeps a jumping and buys his FURNITURE, Carpets, Stoves and Dishes of the

A. O. U. W. EXCURSION

Nearly 300 Fort Wayne People Take It In.

A Section Foreman's Unique Report of an Accident—Affairs About the Shops.

The excursion train over the Wabash which left this city for Evansville at 9:20 last evening carried between 250 and 300 persons. They were the members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, their wives and friends, and their mission was to participate in the celebration of the twenty-eight anniversary of the founding of the order, which takes place at Evansville today and tonight. The First Regiment band accompanied the party and previous to the start played several pieces at the depot which attracked a crowd numbering in the neighborhood of 1,000. The train was hauled by engine 337, with W. A. Johnson at the throttle. It arrived in Evansville at 7 this morning being transferred from the Wabash to the Chicago and Eastern Illinois at Danville without change of cars. On the return trip the train will leave Evansville at 2 p. m. tomorrow afternoon and reach this city at midnight. Conductor Frank Hurlburt had charge of the train from this city to Danville.

DUTCH JOHN'S REPORT.

After having his truck smashed and some of his men killed by a collision with a wild train a German section foreman sent in the following unique report to the division superintendent:

BRIEF MENTION.

Samuel Parker, of the electric works, is off duty on account of sickness.

Fred Lenz, a springmaker in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is sick.

Nickel Plate engine 23 has been turned out of the Stoney Island shops.

After an illness of several days Harry Campbell, a painter, has resumed his work in the Pittsburg shops.

Brakeman L. Schoonover, of the Nickel Plate, who had been on the sick list, resumed work yesterday.

Alonzo Schwank, of the electric works, is taking a "lay off" to celebrate the arrival of a new daughter at his home.

Machinist W. S. Wells, of the Pittsburg, has returned from Chicago and will resume his place in the shops tomorrow morning.

The Pennsylvania wreck car and tool car are being repainted, the work being performed by E. G. Cotner, John Murphy and J. Maher.

Brakeman R. W. Springer, who was laying off to entertain his sister from Huntington, resumed his duties on the Nickel Plate yesterday.

The sick list of the Pittsburg planing mills this morning contained the following new names: H. Meyers, J. Reidel and Fred Baade.

Engines 344 and 417 were turned out of the Pittsburg shops yesterday and their places in the back shops have been taken by engines 16 and 245.

A new car axle which revolves on rollers is being tested by one of the Chicago roads. It is on the same principle as the ball bearing bicycle attachment.

Latta, Ohio, the crossing of the Nickel Plate and the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw roads, yesterday became a junction point and a joint agent was put on duty.

Northern lines are purchasing a large per cent. of their cross ties in Kentucky, Georgia and Florida. For Kentucky oak ties they pay 65 cents apiece; for the Georgia and Florida pine ties, 50 cents.

It is understood that Horace Tucker, who has been chosen chairman of the Chicago and St. Louis Traffic association, will also be made chairman of the Illinois rate committee, with increased territory.

The trains of the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan road are now arriving and departing from the company's new central station at Toledo, which is said to be the handsomest in that city.

H. A. McCullom, the Wabash machinist, has gone to Peru to work a few days.

Frank J. Woulfe, agent for the Wabash and Lehigh dispatch, was the guest of his mother yesterday.

Mrs. George Wicks, wife of the painter, and her two children, will go to Toledo tomorrow to visit friends a few days.

Agent John E. Ross, of the Pittsburg, has returned from Lebanon, Ohio, where he attended the funeral of Mrs. Ross' mother.

A. L. Searls, of the engineering department of the electric works, is at Bryan, Ohio, attending to some business for the company.

W. P. Kindt, of the electric works, shipping department, has recovered from an illness which kept him from his duties a few days.

Master Mechanic W. W. Atterbury arrived home from Philadelphia last evening. He will at once begin to arrange for his removal to Altoona to assume the duties of his new office.

Arthur Roark, of the electric works, has gone to Henderson, Ky., to visit his parents. He made the trip via Evansville, going as far as that city with the A. O. U. W. excursion party.

Section Foreman James O'Leary had a big force of men engaged this morning in putting down a new crossing on Broadway. Street car traffic was delayed there for a short time in consequence of the work.

The wreck on the Bee line division of the Big Four which occurred a few days ago, has been cleared away and the loss ascertained, and it is less than $18,000, not $100,000 as telegraphed over the country.

Thomas Walsh, the venerable watchman at one of the entrances to the Pittsburg shops, is undergoing a painful experience with sore eyes. He is so badly afflicted that it will be several weeks before he can resume his duties.

Some of the men who were suspended last spring are being re-employed in the east car shops. Those who resumed their old places this morning were J. Kress, R. G. Finker, L. H. Lauman and A. Ireland, all car builders.

The week opened with a rush of business on all the railroads. The Nickel Plate is particularly busy, having twenty-five freight trains through this city yesterday in eighteen hours. All the trains ran in three to five sections.

The Big Four and the Louisville and Nashville last week made a good record on a shipment of grapes to the southern markets. A carload of grapes was turned over to the Big Four at Cleveland at noon, and on the second day was delivered at Mobile.

The Pennsylvania company has fitted up a number of box cars in which to carry fine horses. These cars are so constructed as to be heated the same as a car which carries perishable goods, and the horses can be transported with comfort in the severest weather.

This item appeared in the Indianapolis Journal yesterday: "A number of engines off the Erie and Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania lines are being rebuilt at the shops of the Pennsylvania company at Fort Wayne, where work of a superior class is done."

The Pennsylvania company is short of power and is transferring engines from the less busy divisions to those which are pressed with traffic. There has been a decided increase in shipments of coal and coke of late on the Pennsylvania lines and the company's cars of this class are all in use.

As a result of the general manager's inspection of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg the general manager's prize of $100 for the best piece of track was awarded to Samuel Talkington, supervisor of subdivision No. 1, Louisville division, extending from Louisville to Marshfield, Ind. This division also received two prizes of $50 each, awarded to section foremen, for the best sections on the division. The general manager's second prize was awarded to the Richmond division.

The fifty foot specimen furniture car, just turned out of the Fort Wayne shops, left for Pittsburg today. Its storing capacity will be tested by a shipment of light and bulky freight at the first opportunity. The work of getting out the material for twenty-four more cars of this pattern was taken up by the men in the planing mills today.

A Pittsburg paper Saturday had the following: "A new class L locomotive off of the Pennsylvania road proper for several days past has been undergoing tests of its speed and power on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago against one of the ten wheel class X engines, which have been considered the best type of engine in service on that road. It was expected that the class X ten wheel engine would show greater pulling power than the eight wheel new class L engine, but in this respect the class L engine started a heavier train and getting it under headway in less time."

Supt. G. L. Potter will go to Pittsburg tonight and upon his return he will, no doubt, announce the name of the successor to Master Mechanic W. W. Atterbury, who soon goes to Altoona to assume the duties of his new office. In the meantime speculation as to who will be the fortunate one will continue. This morning a new name was put up by the gossips, being none other than James E. Keegan, who is now master mechanic of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road. The fact that Mr. Keegan was recently called to Altoona, and that of late he has been making his visits here more frequent, has given color to this rumor and it may not be far from the mark after all. The appointment would fall upon a worthy and competent man should it be placed upon Mr. Keegan.

Yesterday was the fortieth anniversary of Mrs. L. P. Huser, and in the afternoon a number of her friends gathered at her home, 47 Lavina street, and congratulated her over the event. Refreshments were served, and Mrs. Huser entertained her guests in a handsome manner.

SHE WAS HYPNOTIZED.

Forced to Leave Home and Family by a Man Whom She Feared and Hated.

A strange story has come to light in connection with the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Elizabeth Moody, of Revere, Mass. Hypnotism, it is alleged, is the cause of her leaving her home and her family and detectives are on the trail of Thomas J. Hartly, an Englishman with intense black eyes and a suave and polished manner. There are several circumstances leading up to this opinion, the most important of which is that the missing woman heartily disliked the man and did not want him near her, yet he persisted in his attentions while he boarded at her husband's house, and finally became so obnoxious that he was ordered away. If Mrs. Moody cared for Mr. Hartly it might be assumed that she had eloped with him, but the fact is that she did not, and on numerous occasions repulsed even the slightest attempts to gain her good wishes, and as well made numerous declarations of her dislike. The detectives believe that at the first opportunity Mrs. Moody will break from the restraint and notify her husband of her whereabouts. In the meantime the search for her is being strenuously conducted. Hartly is a slight-built man, about five feet eight inches in height, with black hair, eyes and mustache. His eyes are peculiarly brilliant and intense, and formed a marked feature of his countenance. He was a firm believer in mesmerism, and could control a person if he saw fit to do so.

IS A NEW BOCCACCIO.

GABRIEL D'ANNUNZIO HAS STARTLED LITERALISTS.

Hailed in France as One of the Greatest Word Picture Makers of the Times—His "Triumph of Death" and Other "Realisms."

GABRIEL d'Annunzio is the name of the new Boccaccio that has amazed Italy with his fiery poems and novels of late and who is pronounced by certain French critics to have established the Italian renaissance of letters. D'Annunzio was born near Pescara, a pretty village on the Adriatic. At fifteen, while he was studying at Prato, he published a volume of poems of such a nature as to draw to the author the attention of the authorities. He found himself suddenly famous, and, flattered by his success, plunged into a bath of dissipation out of which he came with a new and wider philosophy of life and language. The three novels which sustain D'Annunzio's reputation as a writer are "Piacere," published in 1889 "L'Innocenti" (1892), and "Trionfo della Morte" (The Triumph of Death), which M. de Vogue, in a critical essay in the Revue des Deux Mondes, says has the right to be considered one of the masterpieces of the times. The Italian author is unknown generally except to a few French readers. An English translation of "Trionfo della Morte" is now in the press and may go far toward acquainting English readers with the style, sentiment, impressions and gifts of D'Annunzio. The Italian seems to have little to commend except the superb, and to some rather offensive, egotism of the school that delights in laying bare the personal weaknesses of its individual writers. D'Annunzio has a clear title to a niche in this gallery, for he evidently believes that his passions are more interesting than those of his neighbors. Of course the French analysists regard him with favor. One phase of his work that commends him to the inscrutable French moderns is his love of describing commonplace filth and dubbing the doing of it "realism."

Nansen's Ancestry.

It is not generally known that Fridtjof Nansen comes of an old Danish family, which left its mark on the history of Denmark before his branch of it migrated to Norway 100 years ago. He is directly descended from Hans Nansen, who was burgomaster of Copenhagen in 1660, and headed the civic forces during the siege of that city by the Swedes. In E. C. Otte's "Scandinavian History" we read: "When the nobles refused to give anything to defray the expenses of the siege, the town council of Copenhagen, headed by their burgomaster, Hans Nansen, made an appeal to the king for the curtailment of the privileges of the nobles. The clergy, under the guidance of the learned and ambitious court preacher, Bishop Svane, seconded their proposals. * * * While these motions were being made within the hall of assembly the gates of the city were closed by the order of Hans Nansen, and a strong civic guard drawn around the doors of the building. The nobles, taken by surprise, gave up their resistance to the payment of the taxes demanded of them, but when Nansen and Svane next proposed to make the crown hereditary in the descendants of the king, whether male or female, they opposed the motion with strong and bitter expressions of dissent. The important measure was, however, passed * * * and on Oct. 18, 1660, Frederick III. received the homage of the several orders of the state as hereditary king of Denmark." All through this crisis Hans Nansen distinguished himself, not only as a politician, but as a citizen-soldier. It is interesting to note, too, that as a young man he made what were then some highly adventurous Arctic voyages, and explored the shores of the White Sea. On his mother's side Nansen is descended from the Counts of Wedel-Jarlsberg, a family of Pomeranian origin, which settled in Denmark about the time of the Thirty Years' War.

HER HAPPY DAY.

A CHARMING STORY OF MEDICINE AND MARRIAGE.

Two Open Letters From a Chicago Girl —How Happiness Came to Her.

Among the tens of thousands of women who apply to Mrs. Pinkham for advice and are cured, are many who wish the facts in their cases made public, but do not give permission to publish their names for reasons as obvious as in the following, and no name is ever published without the writer's authority; this is a bond of faith which Mrs. Pinkham has never broken.

Chicago, Jan. 5th, '95.

My dear Mrs. Pinkham:—A friend of mine, Mrs. ——, wants me to write you, because she says: "you did her so much good." I am desperate. Am nineteen years of age, tall, and weighed 138 pounds a year ago. I am now a mere skeleton. From your little book I think my trouble is profuse menstruation. My symptoms are * * * * etc.

Our doctor (my uncle) tells father that I am in consumption, and wants to take me to Florida. Please help me! Tell me what to do, and tell me quickly. I am engaged to be married in September. Shall I live to see the day? * * * * LUCY E. W.

Chicago, June 16th, '95.

My dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

This is a happy day. I am well and gaining weight daily, but shall continue the treatment and Vegetable Compound during the summer, as you suggest. Uncle knows nothing about what you have done for me, because it would make things very unpleasant in the family. I would like to give you a testimonial to publish, but father would not allow it. * * * * I shall be married in September, and as we go to Boston, will call upon you. How can I prove my gratitude? * * * *

LUCY E. W.

Just such cases as the above leak out in women's circles, and that is why the confidence of the women of America is bestowed upon Mrs. Pinkham.

Why are not physicians more candid with women when suffering from such ailments?

Women want the truth, and if they cannot get it from their doctor, will seek it elsewhere.

Cancer

Mrs. A. H. Crausby, of 158 Kerr St., Memphis, Tenn., paid no attention to a small lump in her breast, but it soon developed into a cancer of the most malignant type. The best physicians in New York treated her, and finally declared her case hopeless. As a last resort, S. S. S. was given, and an immediate improvement resulted; a few bottles cured her completely, and no sign of the disease has returned for ten years.

The tree is about fourteen inches high and on the branches are twenty-eight miniature oranges and blossoms in various stages of development and one fully developed orange. ## M. GRISON.

Director-General of the Paris Exposition to Be Held in 1900.

The director-general of finance for the universal exposition at Paris in 1900 is M. Grison, one of the most efficient government officials of France. M. Grison has for many years been associated with the ministry of commerce and industry and of posts and telegraphs. In these departments of the government, he has worked his way, step by step, to many important positions. In these capacities he has rendered many valuable services in the financial sections of the ministry as director of the secretaries' and of the accountants' positions. In 1870 he won great praise for the masterly manner in which he overcame the difficult task of settling the accounts of supplies during the siege of Paris. He had charge of the financial department of the Paris exposition that was held in 1878. M. Grison's duties in his new position concern all matters connected with the budget of the exposition and all the correspondence pertaining to his department. Under his care comes everything relating to admissions, and he supervises the general statistics of the admissions. Contracts for water, gas, electricity and steam power are let by him, and under his direct control is placed the most important matter of concessions. All concessions and the giving of them are entirely in M. Grison's hands. The immense trust that is reposed in him is in every way indicative of the high opinion in which he is held by the government that employs him. His splendid management of the financial department of the expositions of 1889 and 1878 is the explanation of the great power conferred upon him in the present stupendous undertaking.

Shakespeare's Knowledge of the Law.

The writer of a recent book of legal anecdotes has unearthed some curious testimony as to William Shakespeare's knowledge of the English law of his time. Lord Campbell, a former lord chief justice of England, in the year 1859, published a book entitled "Shakspeare's Legal Acquirements," in which is submitted three and twenty of the thirty-seven plays to a somewhat close examination and deduced therefrom a large number of examples, illustrative of legal knowledge or acquaintance with technical terms on the part of the author. Abounding as are these law phrases, points and metaphors, the marvel is that they are always accurate and appropriately used. There is never a mistake. "While novelists and dramatists," writes Campbell, "are constantly making mistakes as to the law of marriage, of wills and of inheritance, to Shakespeare's law, lavishly as he propounds it, there can be no demurrer, no bill of exception, no writ of error."

Increase of Deaths from Cancer.

In 1840 cancer was held responsible for the deaths of 177 per million living, and in 1894 of 713 per million living. "Thus the proportionate cancer mortality is now more than four times greater than it was half a century ago," and in this respect it stands absolutely alone. Moreover, the same tendency is observable in all civilized lands, so that, unless checked, cancer may be expected to "beome one of the commonest diseases of modern communities."

Wouldn't Let Boggs Be.

George W. Boggs, ex-treasurer of Tacoma, convicted of embezzling $100,000 of the city's funds, and out on bail pending an appeal to the Supreme court, found employment a few days ago as an attendant behind a free lunch counter at Spokane. But so many people flocked to view the spectacle of one formerly filling an exalted position now engaged in such menial work, that he couldn't stand it, and resigned.

THIS GIRL IS NOT WAITING FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

She Has Solved the Question for Her Sex by Going Right to Work and Accumulating Wealth at a Rapid Rate.

AT the county seat of Davison county, South Dakota, is a young woman who has solved the question of woman's sphere, to her own advantage, at least. She has not rent the air by clamoring for her rights, but she has quietly gone ahead and asserted them without any fuss.

The young woman is Miss Jennie C. West. Miss West is now about 25 years old. A few years ago, whether from necessity or choice, it doesn't matter, she determined to be self-sustaining. At that time she was a student in Dakota university. At the end of two years spent in that institution she was made an instructor in mathematics, history and one or two other branches. After she graduated she was elected to the department of history and English literature in the university.

A year later, in the summer of 1892, Miss West was nominated for the office of superintendent of schools of Davison county, and was elected by a handsome majority. She proved such an efficient public official that at the end of her first term she was again elected by a big majority. Her second term will end with the expiration of the present year, and the laws of her state render her ineligible for a third term. But this is only part of what Miss West has done to show the possibilities of energetic womanhood. She has acquired a quarter section of fertile South Dakota land and has developed one of the finest farms in Davison county. Miss West became the owner of this land by taking advantage of the homestead law, and she has improved it with the money she earned as a teacher and as school superintendent. She now has 120 acres under cultivation and has it well stocked. On the farm are forty milch cows, which yield a large amount of milk and cream for the market afforded by the Mitchell creameries. A few days ago Miss West sold twenty-four steers for $800 cash. The proceeds of the farm are swelling her already snug bank account and this irrepressible western girl has the promise of becoming a wealthy woman. At the close of her term of office Miss West expects to enter Chicago university. She has an ambition to become a lawyer. Miss West was born in Vermont. Her parents removed to Iowa when she was but 2 years old and settled in Fayette county. From there they came to Dakota in 1881.

Louis Agassiz.

The early years of Agassiz read like a fairy tale of incredible achievement. His bent toward natural science showed itself almost in infancy and grew with his growth. At fourteen we find him sighing for a list of unattainable books—D'Anville, Ritter, and Italian dictionary, a Strabo in Greek, Manaert and Thiersch; and also the works of Malte-Brun and Seyfert. Failing to get these he copied whole volumes with the assistance of his brother, among others Lamarck's Animaux sans Vertebres. His parents, who had destined him to a commercial career, were with difficulty induced to consent to his studying medicine. At twenty-three he was not only a doctor of medicine, but of philosophy as well, and the author of a work on Brazilian fishes, which won for him a name among the scientists of Europe and the personal intimacy of Cuvier and Humboldt. At twenty-five he began his career as a lecturer and instructor, and at once demonstrated that extraordinary ability as a teacher and that gift of inspiring enthusiasm in his subject which were such marked characteristics of his later years. In 1848 he made his first visit to America, and two years later accepted that professorship at Harvard which determined the work of his remaining life.

The Unknown South.

The International Geographical Congress in London a year ago declared that the greatest piece of geographical exploration remaining to be undertaken is that of the Antarctic regions. Since then a number of small expeditions toward the south pole have been planned, but little has yet been accomplished, and Doctor Mill reminds English readers in Nature that, although fifty-five years have elapsed since Captain Ross discovered the two giant volcanoes which he named Mounts Erebus and Terror, they have never again been seen, and no important additional facts have been learned about that mysterious part of the globe.

Mrs. Martin Luther's wedding ring was a most curious and elaborate affair, says a writer in the Cincinnati Enquirer. Some Cincinnati ladies, who recently saw it in their summer travels, state that the wonderful little ring contains representations of all the articles used at the crucifixion. The ladder, the cross, rope, nails, the hammer, spear and even the thorns are shown on its surface.

It is not always safe to measure the value of a bargain in the amount of dollars required to purchase same.

A careful examination of the Everett Piano easily convinces intending purchasers that the manufacturer's claim of a strictly high grade instrument is a simple statement of the facts.

The Everett Piano excels in all those small details which, taken as a whole, easily place it beyond competition in the piano world today.

The beautiful round tone, its perfect action, are results only obtained by years of experience and in a thoroughly equipped factory by the best and most experienced workmen.

There is also the perfect imitation of a mandolin orchestra, which is found only in the Everett.

This invention has attracted universal attention and is used by such great musicians as Walter Damrosch in producing the works of the great masters. The Everett warerooms are situated at No. 34 East Berry street, where a fine assortment of the latest designs can be seen.

THE WOMEN VOTING.

Ladies Are Given a Chance to Express Their Choice for President.

The women's vote, now being taken throughout the country, for president, is of great interest to all parties, as it has long been a matter of conjecture what course they would pursue if given the elective franchise. Large numbers of the best ladies in the land are making use of this opportunity to express their own views, and the final result of the woman's vote is looked forward to with great interest. The ladies seem deeply in earnest in this opportunity to express their preference in national affairs. It is true the movement brings into marked prominence a manufacturing firm whose office force is used for receiving and reporting the ballot twice a week, but that fact is simply incidental and does not detract from the profound public interest in the question of the woman's vote. It has been urged that the vote is perhaps more sure to be accurately and fairly counted by the skilled accountants of a business office than when handled by some of the ordinary judges of election. However this may be, the Company is of National repute, and pledge their commercial integrity and honor to an accurate and counting under oath. Ladies write on a postal card the name of their choice for President. Sign name and give address. Also in lower left hand corner name a Banker or Grocer who knows the fair voter. This card is sent to the Postum Cereal Food Coffee Co., Battle Creek, Mich., and each bona fide voter receives an acknowledgement of the receipt of her vote. The report may, or may not, be favorable to the candidate this paper supports, but the statement will nevertheless appear exactly as the woman's vote stands, and the reader must form his own conclusions therefrom.

Wednesday and Saturday papers each week will give report by states of the progress of this unique feature of a most unique campaign.

People Will Buy Goods

In Hard Times, if they are Sold Cheap Enough.

We are selling lots of goods—more than ever before in the history of our great store, but are making mighty little money.

Times are not propitious for money making. The people will only buy when they are offered a $2 article for $1.

We have been filling our immense establishment with car load after car load of just such bargains, bought of receivers of factories that have failed.

The effect upon our business has been magical. In August of 1895 our sales exceeded those of August of 1894 sixty-two per cent. In August of this year we made a gain in sales over last year of twenty-two per cent, making a gain in August of 1896 over the same month of 1894 of eighty-four per cent. We doubt if such a record of increase of sales can be matched by any old established house in the state.

BRYAN IN ILLINOIS.

Billed for Twenty-four Speeches in Three Days.

Begins His Work at Lincoln, With an Address at 7 O'Clock Today.

BLOOMINGTON, Ills., Oct. 27.—William J. Bryan evidently will make the last week of the campaign one of hard work and in all probability a record breaker.

Shortly after 7 o'clock this morning he was talking to the people of Lincoln, Ills., and at 9 o'clock the people of Bloomington were listening to the triple nominee.

At Lincoln there was a good sized crowd down to the depot before breakfast, in fact many were there all night, for when the special car was sidetracked shortly after 3 o'clock this morning a crowd of ardent admirers of the nominee showed their affection for him by disturbing his rest and demanding a speech at that early hour.

When he arrived in Lincoln the crowd surrounded the car and loudly demanded his appearance, all of which was very comforting not only to Mr. Bryan but to the other members of the party. When Mr. Bryan began to speak there was a crowd of several thousand assembled about the platform in the public square in Lincoln and nearly every member of the crowd wore a Bryan badge.

Mr. Bryan's talk was in the main in reference to the statement that a panic would follow the enactment of the law looking toward the free coinage of silver. His speech was liberally applauded and he was in touch with the crowd which heard him. He said in part:

"One week from today the American people are to decide upon the financial policy of this nation for at least four years, and possibly a longer time. When our opponents have failed in everything else, they commence to make gloomy predictions of what will happen if we have the free coinage of silver. You know whenever we have complained of existing conditions they have called us calamity howlers.

"But, my friends, the worst of those who have complained of conditions as they are, are speaking words of praise compared with the language by our opponents when they begin to tell what is going to happen if the free coinage of silver comes and one of the most frequent of the prophecies which they make is that a panic will come from the moment we have the free coinage of silver, that all the people who have money will lock it up and all the people who have mortgages will foreclose the mortgages, and that there is going to be a period of ruin here, and that language fails to express their ideas of the subject. They simply stand aghast at the picture.

"I want to show you that the free coinage of silver, instead of bringing a panic, will stop the panic that the people have been suffering from four years. We are in the midst of a panic now and we have been in the midst of a panic. Business failures have been increasing and hard times have been becoming harder. That is what a panic means, and we are in the midst of a panic now and there is no way out of the panic until we stop falling prices, and there is no way to stop falling prices until we increase the volume of money, which measures prices.

"Now there is one principle to go on when you are discussing what is going to happen, and that principle is that people are not going to do anything that is injurious to them if they know it. You can count on selfish interest always, and when you tell me that men will hoard money under free coinage, I tell you that I know they will not hoard money, because people never hoard money when money is falling in value. They do not hoard wheat when wheat is going down. You will find that when the prices begin to fall they begin to get rid of the thing falling in price and under free coinage there will be a larger amount of money brought into circulation and people understand that means the purchasing power of the dollars will fall, and when they commence the men who own the dollar will be trying to get rid of the dollar and get hold of something which is rising in its purchasing power."

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—William Jennings Bryan, democratic candidate for president, will have three of the busiest days of his life in Chicago, beginning today. He has scored a remarkable record as a speechmaker, and he proposes to give Chicago a striking exhibition of his wonderful powers of endurance. Incidentally he hopes to gain many votes for his cause, and his managers are confident he will succeed.

Beginning about 4 o'clock this afternoon he is booked to make twenty-four speeches in this city by 11 o'clock Thursday night. It is also planned that he shall make a special train Thursday morning and make a flying trip to Freeport, Elgin and Rockport, returning by 6 p. m. Mr. Bryan is expected to arrive at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon on the Chicago and Alton railroad and will be driven to Battery D, surrounded by his escort, and he will be given a reception.

DWIGHT, Ill., Oct. 27.—The workingmen of Bloomington listened to William J. Bryan at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and they gave him a cordial reception. From a stand, in Franklin park, and near the residence of Vice President Stevenson, he talked to an audience of several thousand people, and, after being introduced by the vice president, paid that gentleman a compliment as being one of the democrats still true to the traditions of his party. He then proceeded to answer questions propounded to him by a morning paper, and his answers apparently satisfied the crowd.

Mr. Bryan said: "This is the home of the vice president of the greatest nation of God's footstool. We who have been keepers of the democratic faith love Adlai Stevenson not only for what he is, but we love him because he is all we have left of the last national democratic ticket. If you have any doubt as to the democracy of our position on the money question, I want you to read what the republican candidate for the presidency said yesterday. He says in a speech from the front porch, "every dollar representing one hundred cents, and good not only among our own people, but wherever trade goes in every market and market place of the world. Now, remember what he says. Speaking of this dollar he says: It was made by the republican party, but, let me say, while it was made by the republican party, the administration of Grover Cleveland has maintained it. There he tells you that Grover Cleveland has simply carried out the policy of the republican party and infercentially tells you that republican success means that the republican party in four years will carry out the policy of Grover Cleveland. This administration has issued $262,000,000 in bonds to maintain a gold standard for three years, and Mr. McKinley praises Mr. Cleveland for having maintained the standard. When Mr. McKinley says that Mr. Cleveland has maintained republican doctrine and praises Mr. Cleveland, you have reason to believe that if Mr. McKinley is elected you will go on issuing bonds for the benefit of the bondholders and tax people to pay for them. My friends, there are strange times. You will not find in our political history another instance where a president has been thrown overboard by his own party only to be caught up and idolized by the opposition party. Yet that is what you find today. The only people who are commending the financial policy of Grover Cleveland are the men who are trying to elect a republican president to continue that policy for four years more. Are you surprised then to find a democratic president endorsing a republican candidate for the presidency that a policy inaugurated at St. Louis and reiterated by the republican candidate is driving out of the republican party those who still believe in a government by the people and for the people. I have been informed this morning to republicans who have joined with us this year—men who, until this year, voted the republican ticket, but who this year are joining with us to restore the money of the constitution. I am proud of the kind of men who come to us. I am glad that those who go from us are those that have been milestones about the necks of democracy and have been using the instrumentalities of it for public plunder. And the more of them that go into the republican party, the worse for the republican party."

USE OF ALCOHOL IN THE ARTS.

Report of Questions Bearing on the Subject to Be Sent Broadcast.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The joint select committee created at the last session of congress to investigate and report upon the question of the use of alcohol free of tax in the manufactures and arts, has prepared a series of interrogatories which will be distributed throughout the country to such parties as are thought to be interested in the question.

The report of Henry Bailey, Jr., who was commissioned to investigate the workings of foreign laws governing the use of untaxed alcohol in the manufactures and arts, has been submitted and contains very full and valuable data covering Great Britain, Germany, France, Belgium and Switzerland.

It is the desire of the committee to secure all possible information bearing upon the subject, and parties interested are requested to submit their views to the committee promptly.

The committee, which is composed of three members of each house, probably will assemble in Washington soon after the middle of November for the purpose of formulating a report to congress, accompanied by the draft of a law which will place domestic industries in foreign countries. During their sessions in Washington hearings will probably be given in order to supplement the information obtained through the interrogatories to be sent out.

WITH FATAL RESULTS.

A Brutal Bull Fight Caused a Panic in the Audience.

NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 27.—A bull fight with fatal results occurred at Nogales Sonora yesterday, and for a short time caused a panic in the audience. One of the bulls, becoming more enraged than usual at these rather tame fights, rushed about the arena, goring everything within its reach. A horse was disemboweled. A picador, Jose Angulo, in an attempt to place a thorn in the side of the wild animal, was caught on one of its long horns, which pierced him like a sword. He was tossed and fell to the ground bleeding and mangled, when the brute went at him with his horns and hit and gored him. He was frightfully injured and died a few minutes later. There was intense excitement in the audience and at one time it was on the verge of a panic, but was quieted by the killing of the bull.

FIFTY-TWO LADIES

Call Upon Major McKinley This Morning.

They Came From Martins Ferry and Lined Up and Marched Like the Sterner Sex.

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 27.—The first delegation today to be presented to Major McKinley was a party of fifty-two ladies, who arrived in a special car from Martin's Ferry, Ohio, at the noon hour. They wore large ribbons, upon which was inscribed "McKinley and Sound Money." The ladies marched to the McKinley residence at the head of the Maryland and West Virginia delegation, which arrived at the same time and was transported to this city in fifteen coaches. The women were introduced by Harry Frantz and the delegations from West Virginia and Maryland by Hon. E. H. Sincell, of Piedmont, W. Va. This latter delegation was accompanied by two bands and made a highly enthusiastic demonstration.

Before the first crowd was out of the yard three other delegations in one body were in the street at the foot of the hill, waiting a chance to get on the lawn. These were from Cleveland and composed of the employes of the Upson Nut company, the Iamso & Sessions company and Peck, Stow & Wilcox. Kirk's band, of Cleveland, and the Grand Army band, of Canton, marched in the delegation and played "The Star Spangled Banner," while the crowd greeted Major McKinley with cheers and cheers. The delegation was a large one, having used two special trains for its transportation. William McKinnie, one of the workmen, made the introductory address.

Employes of the Junction Iron and Steel company, of Mingo Junction, with their wives and friends in numbers sufficient to fill a special train and headed by the G. A. Dean band, arrived just after the Cleveland delegation and waited their turn at the bottom of the hill. They were introduced by Capt. N. N. Urquart, of the company.

The reviewing stand has been re-erected on the front of the lawn and was used for the Cleveland and later speeches.

Three more delegations are announced to arrive this afternoon, the most important of which is a Boston party coming on the "Sound Money" club of New England. The train of this party is running a little behind scheduled time and will not reach Canton till 2 o'clock, or possibly a little later.

NO VACATION FOR HIM.

General Fitzhugh Lee Gives Up His Visit.

Fears That a Trip to His Home Will Be Considered a Desire to Retire From Office.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—General Fitzhugh Lee, consul general at Havana, has given up his proposed visit to his home in Virginia, which he had expected to make within the next few days. The determination to remain at his post is understood to be due to the reports current in the United States that he was dissatisfied with his instructions and desired to be relieved. As his return might give seeming approval to the reports the consul general determined to give up the vacation he had planned, although he is much in need of a change of scene, owing to the hardships of the Havana climate during the last six months.

MISSIONARY UNION.

Interesting Meeting to be Held Here in November.

On November 12 next the Missionary union will convene in the Westminster Presbyterian church, at 2 o'clock. The subject for the day is "City Missions." Every lady is requested to bring lunch enough for two, with her own spoon and napkin. Coffee will be served to all and gentlemen friends are invited to this social feast, to remain for the evening meeting, which will be addressed by Miss McCurdy, of Terre Haute, Ind., who is an experienced and successful worker in city missions. It is hoped that other churches will avoid placing any other meeting upon that day and that we may have a large representation from all the societies.

Railroad Wreck.

TWO KILLED

By a Railway Accident in New Jersey.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Dr. W. W. Palmer and Miss Fanny Palmer, his granddaughter, fifteen years of age, of Keansburg, N. J., were killed today and William Haurau, of Atlantic City, was probably fatally injured by a train of the New Jersey Central railway at Keansburg. Mr. Haurau had gone to Keansburg to visit the Palmers and all three, with a daughter of Dr. Palmer, were in a carriage crossing the railway track, when a train that had been unobserved by them struck the vehicle and wrecked it. Dr. and Miss Palmer were killed instantly. Haurau can scarcely survive his injuries. Dr. Palmer's daughter was not seriously hurt.

HEADED THIS WAY.

Expert Mining Engineers Coming to America.

They Represent the English Syndicate Which Purchased the Anaconda Mines.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Two prominent mining engineers from London are now on their way to this city. One of them is Louis Janin, jr., son of Louis Janin, of this city, and formerly an editor of the Mining and Engineering Journal, of New York. Dr. Janin was at one time a mining engineer here and is now in the employ of a London syndicate. He stay here will be short, as he is going to Australia to examine some property that the London syndicate is thinking of purchasing. Hamilton Smith, of the London Exploration company, the largest mining syndicate in the world, is the other mining expert coming here. It was on this gentleman's report that the company in question recently bought the famous Anaconda mines in Montana. The company owns the Oneida property in Amador county, Cal.; the Alaska Treadwell, the Steeple Rock, in New Mexico, and the Minas Prietas, in Mexico. It is believed his trip to California has something to do with the rumor that his company is thinking of purchasing the famous Mariposa grant in Mariposa county, Cal., consisting of 44,000 acres in the heart of the Mother Lode country. The property is owned by John W. Mackay, Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada; Alvin Hayward and the Hobart estate. If the proposed deal goes through it will be the biggest mining deal ever consummated in the world. It is also stated that Mr. Smith may arrange for the purchase by this company of the Home Stake mine in South Dakota.

A CLERK'S ERROR

Proves Very Expensive to an Insurance Company.

The Mutual Life Compelled to Pay $100,000 Because of a Little Omission.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Owing to a court clerk's error the Mutual Life insurance company, of New York, must pay Mrs. Nellie Phinney a judgment of $99,000, with interest and costs, making over $100,000. Such was the decision rendered by the United States circuit court of appeals in this city. The company refused to pay the life policy of Guy C. Phinney for $98,000, and suit brought by the widow and judgment given, but the case was appealed. R. M. Hopkins, clerk of the court at Washington, failed to properly endorse the writ of error filed with him, therefore there is no official record showing that the writ was actually filed. The time allowed within which another appeal might be filed has expired, so the decision is final.

Negroes at a McKinley Meeting Get Into a Fight.

One of the Shots Goes Astray and Finds Lodgment in a White Man's Breast.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 27.—A special from Coal Creek, the famous rioting mining town, thirty miles from here, says a very sensational shooting affray occurred there last night, in which two men were killed and others wounded. The fight occurred at a McKinley and Hobart meeting. A negro named Bud Black began shooting at another negro named Frank Martin. They exchanged several shots and Martin fell mortally wounded, with two bullet holes through his body. One of the shots struck and instantly killed Squire Robert Laugh lin, a justice of the peace, and one of the leading citizens of the town. Others were hit, but not seriously hurt. Black made his escape.

POLITICAL CIRCULAR.

Leaders of Railway Organizations Make a Statement.

Messrs. Arthur, Sargent and Arnold Repudiate Statements Said to Have Been Made by Them.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 27.—The following circular was issued today:

"To the Workingmen of the United States: "To refute a false statement, as we sincerely believe it to be, and correct any impression that our friends and acquaintances may have formed concerning our signatures to a campaign document going the rounds of the press and circulated broadcast on the streets entitled, 'Proclamation,' in which we are made to appear that we are in favor of free silver at any ratio and substantially the establishment of two standards of money. Contradictory as the terms may be, we wish to be recorded by all who are interested in our position, as being emphatically and equivocally against any such measures, but are for the sound money plank promulgated by the republican convention at St. Louis. Our signatures were obtained nearly three years ago to a document pretending to be a 'memorial' to congress then in session, which, in our belief and memory, was a much milder paper than is the 'proclamation' referred to. And so matter what our opinions may have been on the money question at the time of our signing the memorial, nearly three years ago, we have learned enough since on the subject, to warrant us in denouncing the attempt at free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, believing it to be directly against the interests of labor and also believing that under a condition of free coinage this country will be subjected to one of the most frightful panics that any country in this world has ever seen. Our belief in this statement is strengthened by an admission made by Wm. J. Bryan, candidate for president, in a recent speech in the northwest, wherein he is reported to have said that he thought that a free silver condition would bring, for the present, stagnation and panic, but from which, in four years, we would recover. We don't believe that this country can stand an additional four years of anxiety and distress and are therefore opposed to the sentiments contained in the aforesaid 'proclamation.'

'Very respectfully,

"P. M. ARTHUR, "Grand Chief Brotherhood Locomotive Engineers.

"F. P. SARGENT, "Grand Master Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

"F. W. ARNOLD, "Grand Secretary and Treasurer Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen."

STILL HAS GOLD.

A Run on the Sub-Treasury Fails to Break It.

The Flurry Lasted but a Short Time and No One Was Greatly Alarmed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The statement telegraphed from San Francisco today to the effect that the United States sub-treasury there had just pulled through a run which threatened to annihilate its gold holdings, is stated by the treasury officials to be greatly exaggerated. During the month of August and a part of September the withdrawals reported from the sub treasury at San Francisco were abnormally heavy, but at no time were the officials apprehensive of any serious results. Long before the withdrawals assumed any considerable proportions instructions had been given the Chicago sub-treasury officials to be ready to ship to San Francisco such quantities of gold as might be required, and later on one or more shipments were made. For the most part, however, the assistant treasurer at San Francisco managed the matter with little assistance from Washington, and as one official stated today, "The flurry lasted but a short time, and alarmed no one. There has been no unusual withdrawals at San Francisco for nearly a month."

A stubborn fight will be made on all sides for the lands, the claims of whose value ranges from a million to several millions of dollars. The property involved aggregates 163 acres. The state of Illinois, claimants under the Kinzie patent, and parties who wish to make scrip location, all seek title to the lands.

BENEFIT OF A DOUBT.

Robert Gilman Arrested and Then Released.

Prosecuting Witness Fails to Appear in Court—News in Police Circles.

Jesse Jackson, a renovator of hats, doing business on South Calhoun street, yesterday instructed Officer Lot Sharp to arrest one Robert Gilman for trespass. He claimed that he had discharged Gilman and that the young man persisted in hanging about his premises to the annoyance of himself and his patrons. So, last night, Officer Sharp arrested the young man and lodged him in police station. This morning when the prisoner appeared before the mayor he denied the charges, and his honor having only the testimony of the officer, he discharged Gilman. He said that a prosecuting witness who will not appear in court after having instigated an arrest must have a weak case indeed. It seems that Jackson attended the Brownsville excursion and is not in the city.

ALL who wish to cast their votes for Bryan, must vote for the electors on the democratic ticket. Voters cannot vote directly for Bryan. They vote for the electors, and the electors will vote for Bryan.

ONE week from today the battle of the ballots will be in progress and then the business of the country will settle down to its natural channels.

FORT WAYNE will have another big crowd in town Friday. Ex-President Harrison, for the republicans, and Eugene V. Debs, for the democrats, will be the drawing cards.

FROM his sick bed Senator Voorhees sends words of cheer to the democracy of Indiana, saying that Bryan will carry the state; that he will be elected, and that "the laboring, producing classes will thereby be vastly aided in returning to prosperity and happiness." He expresses deep regret at his inability to take an active part in the pending contest and declares himself unequivocally in favor of the Chicago ticket and platform.

READERS of daily newspapers who complain that there is nothing in their columns but politics, probably do not realize that about all one hears on the streets and in the business places is politics. If a murder is committed next door to a man and some patriot changes his politics a mile away, you will hear of the political conversion twenty times before the murder is mentioned. This illustrates how difficult it is for reporters to get hold of the news.

EVERY citizen should be perfectly clear in his own mind as to the proper way of voting before going to the polls and essaying to cast a ballot. Remember that to vote a straight ticket it is only necessary to stamp once within the square that encloses your party emblem. Stamp only once. To vote a mixed or scratched ticket do not stamp the emblem, but do stamp the little square in front of each man's name for whom you wish to vote. If these plain directions are followed, voters will make no mistake.

THE free coinage of silver would largely increase our trade in manufactured goods with all Latin-America, as it would enable them to pay in silver for purchases instead of gold at 100 per cent. premium as they are now compelled to do.

MUCH allowance is to be made for the claims of party success which come from managers of national campaigns. As a rule, they only see and hear one side of the battle, and one of the most important factors in giving success to a political cause is to impress the voters of the certainty that it is going to win. The public, therefore, always receive with liberal allowance the claims made by those who are in responsible charge of national campaigns.

THE unit of value fixed by the law of 1792 was the silver dollar. When Mr. Ingham, Jackson's secretary of the treasury, undertook to change the unit of the silver to the gold dollar he awoke the rage of Jackson to such an extent that he was discharged from the cabinet. Jackson made the same fight that the democracy is making today. The unit of value for money in this country was silver until 1873, when it was changed by the act demonetizing silver and then the business depression begun.

JOHN W. NUSBAUM has been in politics a good many years and therefore knows what sort of fellows make themselves particularly and offensively fresh at times. In his paper, the Shipshewana Tribune, Mr. Nusbaum indulges in this characterization: "The campaign liar is abroad throughout the land. He is a very energetic person and thinks he is in great demand. What he knows about the political questions could be put in a small sized hazelnut. It is safe to let what he says go into one ear and out the other, for the reason he never reads, but enlarges on something he has heard."

THE campaign is drawing to a close and for the few days remaining it would pay all hands to be decent. The closing days of a campaign furnish the worst time for exhibitions of political intolerance, as such acts in their effects may be projected beyond the election into the period when everybody should hope for peace and quietness. The talk about boycotting for opinion's sake, saying nothing about the act itself, is just now not only foolish but criminal. Any man, no matter of what party, is a criminal who would stir up bitterness and strife to last beyond November 3, the day agreed on for a final settlement.

THE next legislature will elect a successor to United States Senator Daniel W. Voorhees, and for that reason, if for no other, each party is exceedingly anxious to be in control on joint ballot. One hundred and twenty-six members are to be elected—100 representatives and twenty-six senators. There are twenty five hold over senators, but the resignation of William S. Haggard, of Tippecanoe county, who is the republican nominee for lieutenant governor, makes it necessary to elect twenty-six senators. Of the twenty-four hold-over senators, eighteen are republicans and six are democrats. The democrats and populists have fused on thirty-three candidates for representative and on six candidates for the senate, and appearances now indicate that they will have a majority of members in the next state legislature.

IT is safe to say that there has not been for twenty years a presidential campaign that has excited so much interest among all classes in Fort Wayne and Allen county as the one which is now so rapidly drawing to a close, and what is true of this vicinity is equally true of the whole country. The campaign has been distinctly one of education. No device has been spared by either party to arouse party enthusiasm and bring out the voters, but after all the excursions and the processions are only the incidents, the preliminaries, necessary in some cases, to the proper exploitation of campaign oratory. The campaign circular and orator have done the real work, and it has been done more effectively than ever before. Converts have been and are still being made on both sides, and it will continue so until election day. These facts furnish reason for congratulation. The world has never seen a grander spectacle than the American people have presented this year, the spectacle of 12,000,000 voters seriously taking up a great economic question and essaying to decide it by the light of their own reason and intelligence.

A RECENT talk on the subject of so-called "faith cures" has led to considerable correspondence concerning them. In plain, non-technical terms, the entire mystery is explained by the fact that mental impressions have such a powerful and marvelous effect upon the body that if a physically afflicted woman believes that she will be cured through the efficacy of prayer, in numerous instances the desired result is accomplished. But bear in mind that the same end can be attained with the same subject by simply telling her that at a certain moment prayers are being offered in her behalf, in a distant church, even though no such event was taking place. So, you see, it is the mental impression and not the prayer that produces the effect. These experiments succeed only with persons of peculiarly impressionable dispositions, and that is the reason why women figure most frequently as the recovered patients. Hundreds of authentic cases could be cited in support of this position. Nor is it even necessary that these workings of the imagination should play alone on the nervous system, which, of course, is the most susceptible. Even the involuntary muscles are acutely subject to the impressions of the mind.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

Judge Bartholomew Makes It in a Building Association Case.

In the foreclosure suit of Lewis G. Miller against Thomas P. Mills and others, decided by Judge Bartholomew in the superior court at Indianapolis, last Saturday morning, a point entirely new in the courts of the state and one of large interest to building and loan associations and borrowers of building and loan funds was involved and established by the decision in question.

The basis of the suit was simply this: Charles E. Allender and wife, two of the defendants, borrowed of the Aetna savings and loan association the sum of $900 and invested in the association stock to that amount. In security they executed a bond and mortgage upon a certain piece of real estate, and also pledged their shares of association stock in security of the loan. They were to pay 6 per cent. per annum in advance, payable each month during the existence of the loan or the life of their shares and also fifty cents per share weekly dues and twenty cents premium each week on each share.

On October 30, 1895, Thomas P. and Anna P. Mills, with Samuel and Anna M. Small, became owners of the property by legal conveyance, but did not assume to pay as part of the purchase money the bond and mortgage, on which the suit in question was instituted. The Allenders subsequently became delinquent in dues on their building and loan shares for a period of 111 weeks and in payment of the premiums for thirty weeks, these delinquencies aggregating $265.75, including interest. In addition to this they were also delinquent $34.65 in fines. It was also provided in the bond that if the owners of the property should become delinquent in payment of taxes on the property the mortgagee could pay the taxes, which amount should be added to the lien already resting on the real estate and become a part of the mortgage debt. On May 5, 1896, the Aetna Savings and Loan association sold and transferred the mortgage to the plaintiff, Lewis G. Miller, without recourse on such association, the bond executed by the Allenders also being transferred to Miller. The defendants set up a denial that Miller was the owner of the property and therefore not the party in interest for the reason that under the building and loan law of Indiana the Aetna Savings and Loan association had no power to assign the bond and mortgage to Miller and that these instruments were therefore null and void.

In disposing of the case Judge Bartholomew in the course of a carefully prepared opinion said:

"After a person has become a stockholder in a building and loan association and becomes a borrower of said association it is provided by law and decided by our supreme court that he cannot withdraw therefrom until the loan made from said association has been fully paid.

"Now, the bond and mortgage sued upon (the evidence shows) were in default for the non-payment of interest, premium, etc., at the time said bond and mortgage were assigned to the plaintiff, consequently under the decision in the case above cited, the defendants (Allenders) had no interest whatever in said association, they having forfeited the same by the non-payment of the dues, assessments, premiums, fines, etc. This then left the association with the mortgage on the real estate as its sole security for the debt due from the defendants Allenders to the association, and if to save the costs, expenses and uncertainty as to whether, upon the foreclosure of said mortgage due the said association from said Allenders, said property would sell for a sufficient sum to pay said loan in full, I am of the opinion that under the law the association had the right and the discretion to determine whether or not it was not better and to the interest of the stockholders to sell, transfer and assign said mortgage to the plaintiff or to take the usual course in their own name and in their own right to foreclose said mortgage, sell said property and buy it in at sheriff's sale.

"For the foregoing reasons I am of the opinion that the plaintiff is the real party in interest and is entitled to a decree of foreclosure upon the mortgage and liens described in the first paragraph of his complaint and abundantly sustained by the evidence given on the trial of this cause, and judgment will be entered accordingly."

The Students' Art league will meet tonight.

Once in a while a man surprises the watchers by sitting up in his coffin, and asking why in the world they put him in there. Such things, when they happen, are published far and wide. They are considered well nigh miraculous. Is it any less wonderful when a man is cured of a disease presumed to be fatal? When physicians say to a man that he cannot live, he considers himself just about as good as dead. He can almost feel the coffin closing upon him. And yet, frequently these men who are sentenced to death by their doctors, are raised up out of their sickness to perfect, hearty health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has lifted thousands of men and women right out of the grave. After doctors had given them up, they have in desperation turned to this great remedy, and to their great astonishment have found themselves getting well.

Skepticism in regard to this wonderful medicine has cheated many a man out of his health. If people could only be made to believe the truth about the "Discovery," half the sickness could be avoided and cured. The "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of consumption. This great "Discovery" will also cure all of the things that lead to consumption—lingering coughs, throat and bronchial troubles, general debility, loss of flesh, loss of sleep, loss of appetite, loss of nerve force. Its effect is immediately seen. As the patient begins to feel better, he begins to look better, and the hollows and wrinkles are filled out with sound, firm, healthy flesh. Druggists sell it.

If you want to know the great secrets of health, send 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, and receive free a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. 21 cents in paper covers, 31 cents in cloth. It is a complete medical library in one volume. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Hasty Marriage.

"Marry in haste and repent at leisure" is an old adage, and that it possesses some truth is demonstrated in the case of two young south siders. One of them, it is certain, is in a penitent mood. The story is as follows: A certain young man, or boy, as he is but 18 years of age, and a girl of 17, had for some time kept company with each other, and made up their minds to get married. All arrangements were made and everything seemed rosy and bright till it was found that a very essential thing had been overlooked—the parents of the young lady had not given their consent. The young man at once set about to remedy this, and imagine his dismay when he was informed that he could not have the girl of his choice for a wife. After considering the matter he proposed to the girl that they elope. This she refused to do; she was sure, however, that if the young man would but wait for a few months her parents' consent could be gained. This he refused to do, and in a "huff" he went away and proposed to another young woman. She at once accepted him and the wedding was solemnized. Immediately after the ceremony the young man concluded that he had done a foolish thing, and he has already instituted a suit for divorce, as the parents of the first girl have said that if he can secure his freedom he can have their daughter.—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

The Original of Fauntleroy.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett was the guest of honor at a dinner of the London Authors' Club, July 16. Her son, Vivian Burnett, has just finished his sophomore year at Harvard. His fame as the original of Little Lord Fauntleroy has cost him dear at college, where he is universally known as Curly Locks. One of the tasks imposed on him during his initiation into the Pi Eta Society was to wear the costume of Little Lord Fauntleroy in public for three days. He performed it courageously, however; he visited a high priced tailor and ordered an elaborate suit of Fauntleroys—short breeches, velvet collar, and all. His haberdasher got some fine long, black silk hose for him, and from a wig-maker he secured a wig that looked like molten gold.

Lovers Elope to Milwaukee.

Miss Lidia West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. West, and W. W. Witty, a young attorney of Chicago, eloped to Milwaukee the other day, and their friends say they have been married. The young couple met two years ago at a charity ball, and have been trying to get married ever since. Miss West's parents, who are wealthy, objected to Mr. Witty on account of the alleged smallness of his bank deposits. John F. Waters, also an attorney, is said to have played the part of Cupid in helping the lovers dodge the vigilance of the young woman's parents.

OSTRICH FEATHER INDUSTRY.

Interesting Facts as to the Collection and Treatment of Feathers.

As is well known, feathers, especially those of the ostrich, are used more from year to year as garniture for hats and dresses. The color scale of the Paris syndical chamber glitters in all the glaring colors of the rainbow, and a number of changeable ones were incorporated likewise, all of which are applied to feathers.

Vienna and Berlin strive with each other for the control of the ostrich-feather market. The Vienna manufacturers are adepts in the art of imparting an excellent appearance to even the worst raw material. Even the so-called spadonnas, the hairy tips of the tail feathers of the young ostrich, which are of an inferior value, they understand how to beautify by dyeing and plating as if they were prime No. 1. By plating means the patching together of single pieces to obtain a full first-class feather, and almost every feather, even the costliest, is plated. This applies principally to the feathers of Vienna "manufacture."

The Berlin wars, however, is still honest, and for this reason its manufacturers have a difficult strife with those of Vienna. The Berlin manufacturers thoroughly understand the bleaching, dyeing, steaming and curling of the feathers, and besides they use a superior raw material.

It is astonishing to read of the quantity of ostrich feathers annually used in the civilized world. Newspaper articles sometimes speak in exalted terms of the rococo time, with its extensive use of feathers used by rich and noble ladies, but the total amount used at that time fades from view when compared to that used at present. The data of the six annual auction sales held in London in 1894 show that in all of them 398,734 pounds were disposed of at a value of £584,000.—Philadelphia Times.

Religion and Agriculture.

At Cushing, Ok., a church organization, with a view to providing revenue, pitched in and planted a field of cotton. The crop was recently harvested and sent to the gin and the proceeds will be devoted to the spread of the gospel. No reasonable objection can be offered to mixing up religion and agriculture. It is a better combination in every way than religion and politics.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction, she was brought down with pneumonia, succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Dreier & Bro.'s Drug Store. Regular size, 50c and $1.00.

Pathetic Story of Crouch.

The death of poor Crouch, the almost forgotten composer of "Kathleen Mavourneen," at Baltimore, in the 89th year of his age, brings to mind a pathetic incident which occurred at one of Mlle. Titiens' concerts in the opera house at New York in 1876. The famous singer, as an encore, sang "Kathleen Mavourneen"—the only time she did so while in the States. The song excited a furore of applause, and on Mlle. Titiens leaving the stage, she was informed that a man supposed to be a lunatic, was fighting his way over the barriers from the pit to the stage, determined, as he said, to speak to the singer. The prima donna told the authorities to let him come to her. On entering the man burst into tears, sobbing out, "Oh, Mlle. Titiens, I never before heard my song as you have just sung it." "Your song," was the astonished reply, "why, you are not Crouch, surely?" "I am, indeed," rejoined the composer, even then an old man; "and I felt I must thank you myself." It was indeed the unlucky Crouch, who had scraped together the price of a pit seat, little dreaming that his own now world famous song would be the most rapturously applauded item of the night.

Entitled to Consideration.

"My misguided friend," said the fat man with the puffs under the eyes, "I will admit that I am a capitalist. That part of your assertion shall go unchallenged. But when you say that I am not a producer you are wrong. I have been backing a comic opera company for two months."

Mrs. Will Peterson, of Wallace street, entertained a party of friends last evening at tea. Mrs. E. M. Shaw, of Deshler, Ohio, was the guest of honor.

CLARENCE EDDY HONORED.

The Noted Organist a Member of the St. Cecelia Society.

(Chicago Letter.)

Clarence Eddy, the noted organist of Chicago, who has been elected to honorary membership by the exclusive St. Cecelia Society of Rome, richly deserves the eulogiums brought out by the action of the Roman academy. Mr. Eddy played before the great organists of the society and when he had finished those who heard him broke forth in lavish and spontaneous praise of his genius. The members of the society told him that the academy would be honored by his acceptance of their invitation to become an associate. Mr. Eddy studied music under Dr. Haupt of Berlin. His personality is familiar to all Chicagoans who love the music of the organ. When he first came to this city to live he was an instructor in Mrs. Hershey's musical school. That institution was abandoned when its proprietress became Mrs. Eddy, and Mr. Eddy then began to be more widely known as a musician. He was very prominent in the first May festival held here in 1882. Among those with whom he shared the praise of the people on that occasion were Anna Louise Carey, Emily Vincent, Campanini, Mme. Materna and Myron W. Whitney, the great basso. Mr. Eddy was also prominent in the musical affairs of the world's fair, and the growth of his reputation has been steady and sure.

Keep A-JUMPIN'

THE storekeeper, politician, saloon man, mechanic, or laboring man who expects to do much business or make both ends meet this year, must practice the lesson in the above illustration. Two bullfrogs found themselves in a pail of milk from which they could not jump out. One of them was for giving up, and said to the other: "Good bye, I sink, I die." Said his mate: "Brace up you duffer." Keep a jumping and see what turns up. So they kept a jumping up and down all night, and by morning had so churned the milk that it turned to butter, and they jumped off the butter on to land. This is no milk and water tale as you see by the results—the butter. If you want to make both ends meet, "Keep a JUMPING." Don't cry "I sink, I die." The man who keeps looking for bad times and a snap will not live long enough to get a snap or see good times. The man who keeps a jumping and buys his FURNITURE, Carpets, Stoves and Dishes of the

A. O. U. W. EXCURSION.

Nearly 300 Fort Wayne People Take It In.

A Section Foreman's Unique Report of an Accident—Affairs About the Shops.

The excursion train over the Wabash which left this city for Evansville at 9:20 last evening carried between 250 and 300 persons. They were the members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, their wives and friends, and their mission was to participate in the celebration of the twenty-eight anniversary of the founding of the order, which takes place at Evansville today and tonight. The First Regiment band accompanied the party and previous to the start played several pieces at the depot which attracted a crowd numbering in the neighborhood of 1,000. The train was hauled by engine 337, with W. A. Johnson at the throttle. It arrived in Evansville at 7 this morning being transferred from the Wabash to the Chicago and Eastern Illinois at Danville without change of cars. On the return trip the train will leave Evansville at 2 p. m. tomorrow afternoon and reach this city at midnight. Conductor Frank Hurlbert had charge of the train from this city to Danville.

DUTCH JOHN'S REPORT.

After having his track smashed and some of his men killed by a collision with a wild train a German section foreman sent in the following unique report to the division superintendent:

BRIEF MENTION.

Samuel Parker, of the electric works, is off duty on account of sickness.

Fred Lens, a springmaker in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is sick.

Nickel Plate engine 23 has been turned out of the Stoney Island shops.

After an illness of several days Harry Campbell, a painter, has resumed his work in the Pittsburg shops.

Brakeman L. Schoonover, of the Nickel Plate, who had been on the sick list, resumed work yesterday.

Alonzo Schwenk, of the electric works, is taking a "lay off" to celebrate the arrival of a new daughter at his home.

Machinist W. H. Wells, of the Pittsburg, has returned from Chicago and will resume his place in the shops tomorrow morning.

The Pennsylvania wreck car and tool car are being repainted, the work being performed by E. G. Cotner, John Murphy and J. Maher.

Brakeman R. W. Springer, who was laying off to entertain his sister from Huntington, resumed his duties on the Nickel Plate yesterday.

The sick list of the Pittsburg planing mills this morning contained the following new names: H. Meyers, J. Reidel and Fred Baade.

Engines 344 and 417 were turned out of the Pittsburg shops yesterday and their places in the back shops have been taken by engines 16 and 245.

A new car axle which revolves on rollers is being tested by one of the Chicago roads. It is on the same principle as the ball bearing bicycle attachment.

Lalle, Ohio, the crossing of the Nickel Plate and the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw roads, yesterday became a junction point and a joint agent was put on duty.

Northern lines are purchasing a large per cent. of their cross ties in Kentucky, Georgia and Florida. For Kentucky oak ties they pay 65 cents apiece; for the Georgia and Florida pine ties, 50 cents.

It is understood that Horace Tucker, who has been chosen chairman of the Chicago and St. Louis Traffic association, will also be made chairman of the Illinois rate committee, with increased territory.

The trains of the Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan road are now arriving and departing from the company's new central station at Toledo, which is said to be the handsomest in that city.

H. A. McCullom, the Wabash machinist, has gone to Peru to work a few days.

Frank J. Woulfe, agent for the Wabash and Lehigh dispatch, was the guest of his mother yesterday.

Mrs. George Wicks, wife of the painter, and her two children, will go to Toledo tomorrow to visit friends a few days.

Agent John S. Ross, of the Pittsburg, has returned from Lebanon, Ohio, where he attended the funeral of Mrs. Ross' mother.

A. L. Searls, of the engineering department of the electric works, is at Bryan, Ohio, attending to some business for the company.

W. P. Kindt, of the electric works, shipping department, has recovered from an illness which kept him from his duties a few days.

Master Mechanic W. W. Atterbury arrived home from Philadelphia last evening. He will at once begin to arrange for his removal to Altoona to assume the duties of his new office.

Arthur Roark, of the electric works, has gone to Henderson, Ky., to visit his parents. He made the trip via Evansville, going as far as that city with the A. O. U. W. excursion party.

Section Foreman James O'Leary had a big force of men engaged this morning in putting down a new crossing on Broadway. Street car traffic was delayed there for a short time in consequence of the work.

The wreck on the Bee line division of the Big Four which occurred a few days ago, has been cleared away and the loss ascertained, and it is less than $18,000, not $100,000 as telegraphed over the country.

Thomas Walsh, the venerable watchman at one of the entrances to the Pittsburg shops, is undergoing a painful experience with sore eyes. He is so badly afflicted that it will be several weeks before he can resume his duties.

Some of the men who were suspended last spring are being re-employed in the east car shops. Those who resumed their old places this morning were J. Kress, R. G. Fisher, L. H. Lauman and A. Ireland, all car builders.

The week opened with a rush of business on all the railroads. The Nickel Plate is particularly busy, having twenty-five freight trains through this city yesterday in eighteen hours. All the trains ran in three to five sections.

The Big Four and the Louisville and Nashville last week made a good record on a shipment of grapes to the southern markets. A carload of grapes was turned over to the Big Four at Cleveland at noon, and on the second day was delivered at Mobile.

The Pennsylvania company has fitted up a number of box cars in which to carry fine horses. These cars are so constructed as to be heated the same as a car which carries perishable goods, and the horses can be transported with comfort in the severest weather.

This item appeared in the Indianapolis Journal yesterday: "A number of engines off the Erie and Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania lines are being rebuilt at the shops of the Pennsylvania company at Fort Wayne, where work of a superior class is done."

The Pennsylvania company is short of power and is transferring engines from the less busy divisions to those which are pressed with traffic. There has been a decided increase in shipments of coal and coke of late on the Pennsylvania lines and the company's cars of this class are all in use.

As a result of the general manager's inspection of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg the general manager's prize of $100 for the best piece of track was awarded to Samuel Talkington, supervisor of subdivision No. 1, Louisville division, extending from Louisville to Marshfield, Ind. This division also received two prizes of $50 each, awarded to section foremen, for the best sections on the division. The general manager's second prize was awarded to the Richmond division.

The fifty-foot specimen furniture car, just turned out of the Fort Wayne shops, left for Pittsburg today. Its storing capacity will be tested by a shipment of light and bulky freight at the first opportunity. The work of getting out the material for twenty-four more cars of this pattern was taken up by the men in the planing mills today.

A Pittsburg paper Saturday had the following: "A new class L locomotive off of the Pennsylvania road proper for several days past has been undergoing tests of its speed and power on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago against one of the ten wheel class X engines, which have been considered the best type of engine in service on that road. It was expected that the class X ten wheel engine would show greater pulling power than the eight wheel new class L engine, but in this respect the class L engine started a heavier train and getting it under headway in less time."

Supt. G. L. Potter will go to Pittsburg tonight and upon his return he will, no doubt, announce the name of the successor to Master Mechanic W. W. Atterbury, who soon goes to Altoona to assume the duties of his new office. In the meantime speculation as to who will be the fortunate one will continue. This morning a new name was put up by the gossips, being none other than James R. Keegan, who is now master mechanic of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road. The fact that Mr. Keegan was recently called to Altoona, and that of late he has been making his visits here more frequent, has given color to this rumor and it may not be far from the mark after all. The appointment would fall upon a worthy and competent man should it be placed upon Mr. Keegan.

Yesterday was the fortieth anniversary of Mrs. L. P. Huser, and in the afternoon a number of her friends gathered at her home, 47 Lavina street, and congratulated her over the event. Refreshments were served, and Mrs. Huser entertained her guests in a handsome manner.

SHE WAS HYPNOTIZED.

Forced to Leave Home and Family by a Man Whom She Feared and Hated.

A strange story has come to light in connection with the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Elizabeth Moody, of Revere, Mass. Hypnotism, it is alleged, is the cause of her leaving her home and her family and detectives are on the trail of Thomas J. Hartly, an Englishman with intense black eyes and a suave and polished manner. There are several circumstances leading up to this opinion, the most important of which is that the missing woman heartily disliked the man and did not want him near her, yet he persisted in his attentions while he boarded at her husband's house, and finally became so obnoxious that he was ordered away. If Mrs. Moody cared for Mr. Hartly it might be assumed that she had eloped with him, but the fact is that she did not, and on numerous occasions repulsed even the slightest attempts to gain her good wishes, and as well made numerous declarations of her dislike. The detectives believe that at the first opportunity Mrs. Moody will break from the restraint and notify her husband of her whereabouts. In the meantime the search for her is being strenuously conducted. Hartly is a slight-built man, about five feet eight inches in height, with black hair, eyes and mustache. His eyes are peculiarly brilliant and intense, and formed a marked feature of his countenance. He was a firm believer in mesmerism, and could control a person if he saw fit to do so.

IS A NEW BOCCACCIO.

GABRIEL D'ANNUNZIO HAS STARTLED LITERALISTS.

Hailed in France as One of the Greatest Word Picture Makers of the Time—His "Triumph of Death" and Other "Realisms."

GABRIEL d'Annunzio is the name of the new Boccaccio that has amazed Italy with his fiery poems and novels of late and who is pronounced by certain French critics to have established the Italian renaissance of letters. D'Annunzio was born near Pescara, a pretty village on the Adriatic. At fifteen, while he was studying at Prato, he published a volume of poems of such a nature as to draw to the author the attention of the authorities. He found himself suddenly famous, and, flattered by his success, plunged into a bath of dissipation out of which he came with a new and wider philosophy of life and language. The three novels which sustain D'Annunzio's reputation as a writer are "Piacere," published in 1889 "L'Innocenti" (1892), and "Trionfo della Morte" (The Triumph of Death), which M. de Vogue, in a critical essay in the Revue des Deux Mondes, says has the right to be considered one of the masterpieces of the times. The Italian author is unknown generally except to a few French readers. An English translation of "Trionfo della Morte" is now in the press and may go far toward acquainting English readers with the style, sentiment, impressions and gifts of D'Annunzio. The Italian seems to have little to commend except the superb, and to some rather offensive, egotism of the school that delights in laying bare the personal weaknesses of its individual writers. D'Annunzio has a clear title to a niche in this gallery, for he evidently believes that his passions are more interesting than those of his neighbors. Of course the French analysts regard him with favor. One phase of his work that commends him to the inscrutable French moderns is his love of describing commonplace filth and dubbing the doing of it "realism."

Nansen's Ancestry.

It is not generally known that Fridtjof Nansen comes of an old Danish family, which left its mark on the history of Denmark before his branch of it migrated to Norway 100 years ago. He is directly descended from Hans Nansen, who was burgomaster of Copenhagen in 1660, and headed the civic forces during the siege of that city by the Swedes. In R. C. Otte's "Scandinavian History" we read: "When the nobles refused to give anything to defray the expenses of the siege, the town council of Copenhagen, headed by their burgomaster, Hans Nansen, made an appeal to the king for the curtailment of the privileges of the nobles. The clergy, under the guidance of the learned and ambitious court preacher, Bishop Svane, seconded their proposals. * * * While these motions were being made within the hall of assembly the gates of the city were closed by the order of Hans Nansen, and a strong civic guard drawn around the doors of the building. The nobles, taken by surprise, gave up their resistance to the payment of the taxes demanded of them, but when Nansen and Svane next proposed to make the crown hereditary in the descendants of the king, whether male or female, they opposed the motion with strong and bitter expressions of dissent. The important measure was, however, passed * * * and on Oct. 18, 1660, Frederick III. received the homage of the several orders of the state as hereditary king of Denmark." All through this crisis Hans Nansen distinguished himself, not only as a politician, but as a citizen-soldier. It is interesting to note, too, that as a young man he made what were then some highly adventurous Arctic voyages, and explored the shores of the White Sea. On his mother's side Nansen is descended from the Counts of Wedel-Jarlsberg, a family of Pomeranian origin, which settled in Denmark about the time of the Thirty Years' War.

HER HAPPY DAY.

A CHARMING STORY OF MEDICINE AND MARRIAGE.

Two Open Letters From a Chicago Girl —How Happiness Came to Her.

Among the tens of thousands of women who apply to Mrs. Pinkham for advice and are cured, are many who wish the facts in their cases made public, but do not give permission to publish their names for reasons as obvious as in the following, and no name is ever published without the writer's authority; this is a bond of faith which Mrs. Pinkham has never broken.

Chicago, Jan. 9th, '95.

My dear Mrs. Pinkham:—A friend of mine, Mrs. ——, wants me to write you, because she says "you did her so much good." I am desperate. Am nineteen years of age, tall, and weighed 138 pounds a year ago. I am now a mere skeleton. From your little book I think my trouble is profuse menstruation. My symptoms are * * * * etc.

Our doctor (my uncle) tells father that I am in consumption, and wants to take me to Florida. Please help me! Tell me what to do, and tell me quickly. I am engaged to be married in September. Shall I live to see the day? * * * * LUCY E. W.

Chicago, June 16th, '95.

My dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

This is a happy day. I am well and gaining weight daily, but shall continue the treatment and Vegetable Compound during the summer, as you suggest. Uncle knows nothing about what you have done for me, because it would make things very unpleasant in the family. I would like to give you a testimonial to publish, but father would not allow it. * * * * I shall be married in September, and as we go to Boston, will call upon you. How can I prove my gratitude? * * * *

LUCY E. W.

Just such cases as the above leak out in women's circles, and that is why the confidence of the women of America is bestowed upon Mrs. Pinkham.

Why are not physicians more candid with women when suffering from such ailments?

Women want the truth, and if they cannot get it from their doctor, will seek it elsewhere.

Cancer

Mrs. A. H. Crausby, of 168 Kerr St., Memphis, Tenn., paid no attention to a small lump in her breast, but it soon developed into a cancer of the most malignant type. The best physicians in New York treated her, and finally declared her case hopeless. As a last resort, S. S. S. was given, and an immediate improvement resulted; a few bottles cured her completely, and no sign of the disease has returned for ten years.

Dwarf Orange Tree.

There is an orange tree at Muskegon, Mich., that is making a record in that northern clime. The tree is about fourteen inches high and on the branches are twenty-eight miniature oranges and blossoms in various stages of development and one fully developed orange. The latter is about the size of an ordinary hen's egg, but round. The tree is planted in a large tin can filled with earth and is treated as a house plant.—Detroit Tribune.

M. GRISON.

Director-General of the Paris Exposition to Be Held in 1900.

The director-general of finance for the universal exposition at Paris in 1900 is M. Grison, one of the most efficient government officials of France. M. Grison has for many years been associated with the ministry of commerce and industry and of posts and telegraphs. In these departments of the government, he has worked his way, step by step, to many important positions. In these capacities he has rendered many valuable services in the financial sections of the ministry as director of the secretaries' and of the accountants' positions. In 1870 he won great praise for the masterly manner in which he overcame the difficult task of settling the accounts of supplies during the siege of Paris. He had charge of the financial department of the Paris exposition that was held in 1878. M. Grison's duties in his new position concern all matters connected with the budget of the exposition and all the correspondence pertaining to his department. Under his care comes everything relating to admissions, and he supervises the general statistics of the admissions. Contracts for water, gas, electricity and steam power are let by him, and under his direct control is placed the most important matter of concessions. All concessions and the giving of them are entirely in M. Grison's hands. The immense trust that is reposed in him is in every way indicative of the high opinion in which he is held by the government that employs him. His splendid management of the financial department of the expositions of 1889 and

M. GRISON.

1878 is the explanation of the great power conferred upon him in the present stupendous undertaking.

Shakespeare's Knowledge of the Law.

The writer of a recent book of legal anecdotes has unearthed some curious testimony as to William Shakespeare's knowledge of the English law of his time. Lord Campbell, a former lord chief justice of England, in the year 1859, published a book entitled "Shakespeare's Legal Acquirements," in which is submitted three and twenty of the thirty-seven plays to a somewhat close examination and deduced therefrom a large number of examples, illustrative of legal knowledge or acquaintance with technical terms on the part of the author. Abounding as are these law phrases, points and metaphors, the marvel is that they are always accurate and appropriately used. There is never a mistake. "While novelists and dramatists," writes Campbell, "are constantly making mistakes as to the law of marriage, of wills and of inheritance, to Shakespeare's law, lavishly as he propounds it, there can be no demurrer, no bill of exception, no writ of error."

Increase of Deaths from Cancer.

In 1840 cancer was held responsible for the deaths of 177 per million living, and in 1894 of 713 per million living. "Thus the proportionate cancer mortality is now more than four times greater than it was half a century ago," and in this respect it stands absolutely alone. Moreover, the same tendency is observable in all civilized lands, so that, unless checked, cancer may be expected to "become one of the commonest diseases of modern communities."

Wouldn't Let Boggs Be.

George W. Boggs, ex-treasurer of Tacoma, convicted of embezzling $100,000 of the city's funds, and out on bail pending an appeal to the Supreme court, found employment a few days ago as an attendant behind a free lunch counter at Spokane. But so many people flocked to view the spectacle of one formerly filling an exalted position now engaged in such menial work, that he couldn't stand it, and resigned.

THIS GIRL IS NOT WAITING FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

She Has Solved the Question for Her Sex by Going Right to Work and Accumulating Wealth at a Rapid Rate.

AT the county seat of Davison county, South Dakota, is a young woman who has solved the question of woman's sphere, to her own advantage, at least. She has not rent the air by clamoring for her rights, but she has quietly gone ahead and asserted them without any fuss.

The young woman is Miss Jennie C. West. Miss West is now about 25 years old. A few years ago, whether from necessity or choice, it doesn't matter, she determined to be self-sustaining. At that time she was a student in Dakota university. At the end of two years spent in that institution she was made an instructor in mathematics, history and one or two other branches. After she graduated she was elected to the department of history and English literature in the university.

A year later, in the summer of 1892, Miss West was nominated for the office of superintendent of schools of Davison county, and was elected by a handsome majority. She proved such an efficient public official that at the end of her first term she was again elected by a big majority. Her second term will end with the expiration of the present year, and the laws of her state render her ineligible for a third term. But this is only part of what Miss West has done to show the possibilities of energetic womanhood. She has acquired a quarter section of fertile South Dakota land and has developed one of the finest farms in Davison county. Miss West became the owner of this land by taking advantage of the homestead law, and she has improved it with the money she earned as a teacher and as school superintendent. She now has 120 acres under cultivation and has it well stocked. On the farm are forty milch cows, which yield a large amount of milk and cream for the market afforded by the Mitchell creameries. A few days ago Miss West sold twenty-four steers for $800 cash. The proceeds of the farm are swelling her already snug bank account and this irrepressible western girl has the promise of becoming a wealthy woman. At the close of her term of office Miss West expects to enter Chicago university. She has an ambition to become a lawyer. Miss West was born in Vermont. Her parents removed to Iowa when she was but 2 years old and settled in Fayette county. From there they came to Dakota in 1881.

Louis Agassiz.

The early years of Agassiz read like a fairy tale of incredible achievement. His bent toward natural science showed itself almost in infancy and grew with his growth. At fourteen we find him sighing for a list of unattainable books—D'Anville, Illiar, and Italian dictionary, a Strabo in Greek, Manoert and Thiersch: and also the works of Malte-Brun and Seyfert. Failing to get these he copied whole volumes with the assistance of his brother, among others Lamarck's Animaux sans Vertebres. His parents, who had destined him to a commercial career, were with difficulty induced to consent to his studying medicine. At twenty-three he was not only a doctor of medicine, but of philosophy as well, and the author of a work on Brazilian fishes, which won for him a name among the scientists of Europe and the personal intimacy of Cuvier and Humboldt. At twenty-five he began his career as a lecturer and instructor, and at once demonstrated that extraordinary ability as a teacher and that gift of inspiring enthusiasm in his subject which were such marked characteristics of his later years. In 1848 he made his first visit to America, and two years later accepted that professorship at Harvard which determined the work of his remaining life.

The Unknown South.

The International Geographical Congress in London a year ago declared that the greatest piece of geographical exploration remaining to be undertaken is that of the Antarctic regions. Since then a number of small expeditions toward the south pole have been planned, but little has yet been accomplished and Dr. Nansen's ... reminds English readers in Nature that, although fifty-five years have elapsed since Captain Ross discovered the two giant volcanoes which he named Mounts Erebus and Terror, they have never again been seen, and no important additional facts have been learned about that mysterious part of the globe.

Curios Wedding Ring.

Mrs. Martin Luther's wedding ring was a most curious and elaborate affair, says a writer in the Cincinnati Enquirer. Some Cincinnati ladies, who recently saw it in their summer travels, state that the wonderful little ring contains representations of all the articles used at the crucifixion. The ladder, the cross, rope, nails, the hammer, spear and even the thorns are shown on its surface.

THE WOMEN VOTING.

Ladies Are Given a Chance to Express Their Choice for President.

The women's vote, now being taken throughout the country, for president, is of great interest to all parties, as it has long been a matter of conjecture what course they would pursue if given the elective franchise. Large numbers of the best ladies in the land are making use of this opportunity to express their own views, and the final result of the woman's vote is looked forward to with great interest. The ladies seem deeply in earnest in this opportunity to express their preferences in national affairs. It is true the movement brings into marked prominence a manufacturing firm whose office force is used for receiving and reporting the ballot twice a week, but that fact is simply incidental and does not detract from the profound public interest in the question of the woman's vote. It has been urged that the vote is perhaps more sure to be accurately and fairly counted by the skilled accountants of a business office than when handled by some of the ordinary judges of election. However this may be, the Company is of National repute, and pledge their commercial integrity and honor to an accurate and counting under oath. Ladies write on a postal card the name of their choice for President. Sign name and give address. Also in lower left hand corner name a Banker or Grocer who knows the fair voter. This card is sent to the Postum Cereal Food Coffee Co., Battle Creek, Mich., and each bona fide voter receives an acknowledgement of the receipt of her vote. The report may, or may not, be favorable to the candidate this paper supports, but the statement will nevertheless appear exactly as the woman's vote stands, and the reader must form his own conclusions therefrom.

Wednesday and Saturday papers each week will give report by states of the progress of this unique feature of a most unique campaign.

EXTRA FORCE of Salesmen on hand.

Corner Calhoun and Berry Streets.

People Will Buy Goods

In Hard Times, if they are Sold Cheap Enough.

We are selling lots of goods—more than ever before in the history of our great store, and are making mighty little money.

Times are not propitious for money making. The people will only buy when they are offered a $2 article for $1.

We have been filling our immense establishment with car load after car load of just such bargains, bought of receivers of factories that have failed.

The effect upon our business has been magical. In August of 1895 our sales exceeded those of August of 1894 sixty-two per cent. In August of this year we made a gain in sales over last year of twenty-two per cent, making a gain in August of 1896 over the same month of 1894 of eighty-four per cent. We doubt if such a record of increase of sales can be matched by any old established house in the state.
